Death Came Quietly for Five

REVELSTOKE (CP) — An ambulance driver described the wreckage as "worse than an airplane crash," but for those inside an eastbound bus in the Rogers Pass section of the Trans-Canada Highway death came quietly Friday.

Five people died in the head-on collision Friday between a Greyhound bus, talking about 25 passengers from Vancouver to Calgary, and a runaway, loaded gravel truck.

The dead passengers were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Simister and Mrs. Mary Stahr, all of Burnaby. The student was still unidentified early today.

Lorna Bond, a student nurse at a Vancouver hospital, was on her way home for a holiday at Invermere when the accident occurred.

"I didn't see anything," she said. "My head hit something and all I can remember is the blood running down my face."

There were only whimpers and a few moans from the front of the bus, where most of the people who were seriously hurt were sitting.

Centennial Edition Sold Out Already

Demand for The Daily Colonist Canada Centennial Edition of June 30 has been so great the edition is sold out—two weeks before publication.

Reds Aren't Eager

Big Four Won't Meet

From The Associated Press
"A Big Four conference is not in sight... the Russians are not eager for one now," an informed French government source said in Paris Friday night.

He spoke as Soviet Premier Kosygin flew to New York after a talk of nearly four hours with President de Gaulle in Paris about the Middle East crisis.

The government official said Russia not only isn't interested in an early Big Four meeting on the war aftermath, but also does not expect enough support to win its fight against Israel in the emergency General Assembly session that opens at the UN today.

Russia wants the assembly to pass its motion that failed in the Security Council, condemning Israel as an aggressor and rolling back Israeli troops from Arab territory to prewar positions.

Paris informants said Kosygin told de Gaulle the UN should impose sanctions on Israel if the motion is passed but not obeyed.

De Gaulle, officially neutral and hoping to be a mediator, urged a policy of greater moderation including a meeting of U.S., British, Russian and French leaders—but got a flat no.

CANCELLED PLANS

Before Kosygin's arrival, de Gaulle planned to go to New York if he was convinced there was a chance of serious east-west talks. After Kosygin left, de Gaulle cancelled all plans to make the trip.

On emerging from the talks, Kosygin said: "I am going to New York only to attend the special meeting of the General Assembly, which is the only thing which interests me at the moment. We want to seek a peaceful solution to the problems of the Middle East."

JOHNSON SPEECH

In a Friday night speech at Austin, Texas, President Johnson said the primary requirement for Middle East peace is for each nation there to "accept the right of its neighbors to stable and secure existence."

He made no reference to the UN session or the Kosygin visit, but said the U.S. will do its part to help turn the area "from 20 years of combat, temporary cease and hatred toward the building of durable peace."

BELGIUM VOTE

Secretary-General U Thant summoned the 122 member-nations to meet starting at 6:30 a.m. PDT today after getting the required 62nd affirmative vote from Belgium.

Only the U.S., Israel and Botswana voted.

Pearlman Praises Victorians

Victoria chef Chris Price, 21, who has been roller-skating across Canada to Expo for 13 weeks, showed his 1100 skates to Prime Minister Pearson in Ottawa Friday and received congratulations in return.

WALKER HITS HALIFAX

The former fire-eater and "hazmat pin cushion" said he "just took a notion" he could make it.

For the most part he slept on roadside picnic tables under the shelter of his topcoat.

He expects to reach the end of his journey in St. John's, Nfld., July 15. Then, he said, he plans to sleep for a week.

He left Victoria Feb. 24 with just $300 and a suitcase and said he walked every step of the way.

Medical aid poured in from Red Cross societies around the world—for example, in Sweden, Finland, Tunisia and The Netherlands.

Russia said it has allotted $2,400,000 to ease the plight of the world's refugees.

EYE FOR EYE VIET THREAT

SAIGON (AP) — The Viet Cong threatened Friday to execute some U.S. prisoners-of-war as "our due reply" if the South Vietnamese government executes three Viet Cong agents in its custody.

The Communist guerrillas proved two years ago they were capable of such tactics, killing three American captives in reprisal for the execution of Viet Cong terrorists by South Vietnamese firing squads.

THREE BOMBERS

They were SSGT Army Sgt. Harvey George Bennett, 25, June 25, 1965, after death sentences were carried out on three Viet Cong bombers in Saigon.

Capt. Humbert Versace, 28, and SSGT Kenneth M. Rorback, 33, were shot to death Sept. 24, 1965.

U.S. SHOCKED

The three threat drew from the U.S. state department an expression of shock and concern. Press officer Robert J. McCloskey told reporters in Washington any such act of reprisal is prohibited by article 13 of the Geneva convention on the treatment of prisoners of war.

The three about whom the Viet Cong now are concerned, Radio Hanoi said, were convicted by a special military tribunal in Saigon, May 29.

Radio Hanoi said two of the three Viet Cong under sentence were Bui Van Chien, alias Nam Hoa, and Le Chau, alias Canh. These names did not match Saigon records.

WOMEN JAILED

Only one of the three sentenced in the Saigon trial that ended May 29 was condemned to death for heading a Viet Cong bomb-sabotage squad. He is Bui Van Chieu, 37. The other two—both women—got five-year sentences.

However, two other Viet Cong were convicted June 5 and sentenced to death on charges of treason, illegal possession of weapons and attempted murder.

The Hanoi broadcast did not say how many Americans might be executed. The U.S. state department listed 21 Americans as known to be in Viet Cong hands May 31 and 128 others were missing and believed captured.

U.S. Damage High

Racial Situation Blows Hot, Cold

CINCINNATI (UPI) — The streets of this racially tense city stayed relatively calm for the second night in a row Friday but a top police official said National Guard troops would continue patrols "until things return to normal."

City safety director Henry Sandman said guardsmen would continue to patrol Cincinnati streets "as long as necessary."

NOT SO CALM

The racial situation was not so calm in two other cities — Dayton, Ohio, and Lansing, Mich.

In Dayton, police said they were trying to set up a line of communication with the city's Negro population following two nights of vandalism.

In Lansing, 50 riot-armed police had to barricade a west side neighborhood after bands of Negro youths threw rocks and bricks at passing cars.

DAMAGE HIGH

In Tampa, Fla., a federal official estimated $1,500,000 damage to about 40 homes and stores in Negro areas.

In Louisville, Ky., about 40 demonstrators seeking passage of an open housing ordinance marched without incident through the city's predominantly white south end.

In Montgomery, Ala., only about 50 Negroes showed up for a planned march on the state capitol Friday night. A report said the city refused to grant a parade permit.

On Track

Old 6218 had tender care in Ottawa Friday. State Secretary Judy LaMarsh grabbed the antique steam locomotive, coaches and other railway items were transferred from various points to new national museum of science and technology.—(CP)

Red Hater Charged With Explosive Plot

NEW YORK (UPI)—Unemployed dishwasher John Carl Erickson was arrested Friday on charges of plotting to blow up the Russian UN mission where Soviet Premier Kosygin is to stay.

He attracted the attention of a policeman when he dropped a steel club at a Brooklyn intersection. The policeman found four Molotov cocktails in a shopping bag carried by Erickson.

Police said the man called himself anti-Communist, objected to Kosygin's visit and boasted he planned to blow up the mission.

The incident occurred as New York police and UN officials prepared extraordinary security arrangements for Kosygin. Tight security rules at the UN include the suspension of guided tours for the duration of the emergency General Assembly session.

Oil Pinch Stimulates Stable-Area Search

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The oil emergency caused by the Midwest war is easing as rapidly as can be expected, U.S. Interior Secretary Udall said Friday.

He also said the squeeze, which is not affecting North America but has hurt Europe, seems to be stimulating exploration in North America and other more politically stable areas—but won't end until the Suez Canal reopens.

In Paris, French shipping firms said the canal is blocked by five sunken ships and a sunken dredge. More than 15 ships flying the flags of eight countries are stranded midway through the canal but all on board are well supplied.

Israelis Mowed Down UN Men Inches Away

By DAVE McINTOSH

NICOSIA, Cyprus (CP)—Only now are some of the bloody details becoming available about the Israeli army attack on members of the 1st Sikh Light Infantry, the Indian contingent in the United Nations Emergency Force in Egypt.

There is mounting fury among members of the United Nations force in Cyprus about what happened to the Sikhs at the point that some officers say Israel should be expelled from the UN. The Indian contingent suffered 14 killed and 24 wounded from Israeli fire before it could be evacuated from Egypt to Cyprus. Some of the wounded are still in the UN field hospital here.

There is also resentment here that UN headquarters in New York has not published the details of the fate which befell the Indians in and near the Gaza Strip. Israel offered Friday to pay compensation to the families of the killed and wounded Indians, but denied the attack was deliberate.

Indian officers say the Sikh battalion suffered more casualties as non-combatants in Egypt than it did in its bloodiest engagement in the 1965 India-Pakistan war. They relate these details: An Indian convoy was en route from Camp Rafah to Gaza flying the UN flag from each jeep and truck. The Sikhs could not be mistaken from anybody else because they were wearing their distinctive turbans.

As usual the convoy met an Israeli tank column on the road. It pulled over to the side of the road and stopped to let the Israelis pass. Three Israeli tanks went by.

The fourth tank stopped, swivelled its turret on the convoy and opened fire from a range of only a few feet.

The Israeli tank rammed its gun through the windshield of an Indian jeep and decapitated the two men inside. When other Indians went to the assistance of their stricken comrades they were mowed down by gun fire.

Another Israeli tank thrust its gun into a UN truck, lifted it up and smashed it down on the ground killing or wounding the occupants.

Meanwhile, in Gaza, Israeli tanks put six rounds into the UN headquarters which was flying the UN flag. Three more Indian soldiers were killed.

Palmist Recalled Service a Scot

WHERE NEXT: The battle to claim Robert Service is on. Jock Hamilton claims Service should be classified as a Scot. He bases his claim on the fact that Service sounded like a true-Glasgow-bred product. Mr. Hamilton says that Service shares the honor of having lost his national identity along with Simon Fraser, Alex MacKenzie and Sir John A. Macdonald.

In 1919 Mr. Hamilton met a lady operating a palmistry booth at an exhibition in Toronto.

The palmist claimed to be the lady with the diamond tooth that Service immortalized. The setting included a session in which Scotland's national drink inspired fluid conversation and nostalgia for the Yukon.

Lancastrians will have a hard time contesting their claim to the poet of the north.

JACK ASHORE: Victoria has outdone itself, says Cmdr. John Bovey, visit co-ordinator for the Japanese bargues Kaiwo Maru and Nippon Maru. He reported Friday that 160 Japanese cadets go ashore each night, and "they're all looked after tonight, Saturday and Sunday."

"Isn't that amazing," he said. "We had a tremendous response from the public and the ships are most grateful."

FRIDGE FARE: Mrs. E. McKenzie of Dawson Creek writes that she uses her fridge as a storage cabinet when she is able to take advantage of make-up sales. She stores her cosmetic loot in the cold to keep it fresh. Cigarettes seem a fairly common item that end up in the crisper compartment along with the lettuce and cabbage.

BUSY DAY: Lieutenant-Governor Pearkes has a busy day Monday. He starts his day with a flight to Sandspit where he transfers to a float plane for the trip across Queen Charlotte Island to Tassu. There he will open a new mine, mall and community.

After the job is done he flies back to Victoria where he will attend a reception aboard the Japanese training ship Nippon Maru.

UNKNOWN QUANTITY: Tony Else decided to take his Old Forge staff on a tour of the area's major tourist attractions so that his people could recommend the attractions with first-hand knowledge.

After the jaunt he dropped into a rival hostelry to buy Marilyn Howard, Lisa Anderson, Edna West and Anne Loughheed a cool drink.

As soon as they set down the voice of the harman blasted across the room, "O.K. everybody let's see your ID cards first."

EXPO FLIGHT: Conservation officer Charles Estlin is going to see the Montreal Fair by what he considers the cheap route. He will fly his own light plane on the trip wana opposed the emergency session.

Shaping up was a struggle between the United States and the Soviet Union on propaganda aspects of the session, expected to last perhaps an month.

The U.S. moved to assure it will have the first speaker Monday, when the oratory will start. Koyagin was listed as the second speaker.

The name of the U.S. speaker was not announced but all signs pointed to U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg.

Prime Minister Pearson told the Canadian House of Commons Friday he would not hesitate to attend the General Assembly meeting if he feels his presence can be helpful. However, he had made no decision.

Canada was among the countries which gave approval to the convening of the assembly session on the Middle East.

WILSON LATER?

Britain announced Foreign Secretary George Brown would head its assembly delegation, but a trip by Prime Minister Wilson to New York later was not ruled out.

Communist leaders who have announced they will come to the session include Polish Premier Jozef Cyrankiewicz, Czechoslovak Premier Jozef Lenart and Hungarian Premier Jeno Fock. Additional Communist leaders were expected to follow suit.

A Johnson-Koyagin talk was regarded by most UN diplomats as virtually certain, even if no Big Four talks develop.

Johnson held a strategy session in Washington with State Secretary Dean Rusk and other top U.S. officials. Rusk will across the street from the hospital to handle four passengers with only minor injuries.

Police said the truck apparently lost its brakes while travelling down the rain-slicked highway and slewed in front of the bus, striking it just behind the driver's seat where the student driver was sitting.

They said the crash occurred near the Comaught tunnel two miles west of the Northlander Motel on the summit of the mountainous highway which leads into Jasper and Banff parks.

The accident occurred shortly after 11 a.m. PDT. Three ambulances and a number of private vehicles were sent to the scene.

It was not known whether Trenholm or the student was at the wheel at the time of the crash.

Three other bus drivers were aboard the vehicle.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Members of Vancouver's Jewish community have praised Canada's move to welcome Palestine Arab Refugees as immigrants.

"These people are in trouble," said Leo Marcus, executive director of the British Columbia Zionist Organization. "They are human beings and someone has to do something to help them. I would welcome any move Canada makes in this respect."

Washington (AP)—Lack of confidence that the United Nations can effectively settle the Middle Eastern problems is reflected in strong sentiment in Congress against immediate Israeli withdrawal from occupied Arab territory.

An Associated Press poll, reaching 438 of the 534 members of Congress, put the question: "Should Israel withdraw from captured Arab territories before her security is guaranteed and she is assured of free access to the Gulf of Aqaba and the Suez Canal?"

The response was "no" without important qualification from 364 — representing 42 senators and 322 House of Representatives members.

FLOOD OF AID

the elderly, the injured and the very young.

- The German-Israeli society of Bonn, formed to help Israel rebuild, gave $250,000.
- Pope Paul made a personal contribution of $50,000.
- The French Red Cross sent 1 1/2 tons of medical supplies, milk and bedding.
- In Tokyo, five Japanese private groups launched a campaign for medical supplies.
- The U.S. offered the use of its planes to drop water to the Egyptian soldiers.

In Ottawa, Prime Minister Pearson said Canada has started shipping $2,500,000 worth of food aid to Arab nations, including $1,000,000 worth of wheat flour for the Palestine Arab refugees.

He also said Canada has given the International Red Cross $20,000 for medical supplies, adding to the $48,000 worth of baby clothing given by the Canadian Red Cross itself.

All sides in the Commons presumed the food aid was a new program but officials explained the money was already in the budget. They said the new element is a "hurry up" program.

RECRIMINATIONS

Opposition leader Diefenbaker greeted this news with the thundering shout: "We have been deceived."

He said the only new spending was the $20,000 for the Red Cross.

As the mercy campaign moved ahead, recriminations still were heard.

Israel disclosed it exchanged notes with Russia while the war raged last week. Russia charged Israeli aggression while Tel Aviv accused Moscow of "one-sidedness."

Speaking of messages, editor Mohamed Hassanien Heykal of the authoritative Cairo newspaper Al-Ahram said U.S. President Johnson sent a message to Egyptian President

Needs Decide Regimen

By JOSEPH MOLNER, MD

Dear Dr. Molner: Why are different pills prescribed for specific parts of the day, as one in the morning, one after meals, before meals, after meals, four times a day, before bedtime, etc. Does the pill color or container (capsule, etc.) have any significance?—E.J.S.

There are lots of reasons. I'll give you some of the more significant ones.

It depends on what a medicine is intended to do; how rapidly or slowly it absorbs; whether it tends to irritate the stomach lining; sometimes whether its nature is changed by stomach juices.

Long-acting drugs are usually taken morning and evening. Some antibiotics, taken orally, maintain their action and are given every six hours they provide steady effect without a gap.

It is obvious why sleeping pills are taken in the evening, but with other medications, such as digitals, which may be taken only once a day, a physician specifies a fixed time of day, perhaps at breakfast, the purpose being to establish a daily habit so the patient won't forget, or may not remember for certain whether he has had a pill. This is particularly true of birth control pills.

Colors, shapes and designs are applied by manufacturers to make medications readily identifiable, and the shape may signify a difference in strength or amount. Dosage in some cases may be imprinted. Some pills are scored so they may be easily cut or broken into a fractional dose.

Capsules at times contain pellets of the medicine with coatings of differing thickness, so some are absorbed quickly, others slowly, thus speeding the effect over a longer time.

Chinese Envoys Beaten in India

NEW DELHI (Reuters)—Demonstrators stormed the Chinese Embassy here Friday, smashing windows, burning cars and fighting with diplomats for the Chinese flag flying at the main gate.

The demonstrators were protesting treatment of Indian diplomats who were stoned and beaten at Peking Airport this week after being ordered out of China.

FLAG TORN

The demonstrators beat several Chinese diplomats before finally hauling down the flag and tearing it to pieces.

An Indian government spokesman said seven Chinese were admitted to hospitals for x-rays and observation after the melee.

Seven Indian students also suffered injuries, the spokesman said.

THREW STONES

Eyewitnesses said the violence began after Chinese within the embassy building threw stones and flower pots at the demonstrators. The Indians retaliated with stones, charged through a police cordon and smashed the embassy's iron gates.

Indian police used tear gas to break up the crowd and firemen controlled the fires set in several automobiles.

Peace Corps Pulling Out

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Peace Corps said Friday it was pulling out of Pakistan because of the Pakistani government's wish to have technicians of a "more sophisticated level" than the corps can provide.

"The 13 volunteers now in the country will not be replaced when their term of service ends today," the Peace Corps said in a statement.

Corps director Jack Vaughan said that the government of Pakistan has come to the conclusion "that their requirements for the immediate future are for technicians and specialists at a more sophisticated level than the Peace Corps can readily provide."

Anguilla Petitions For Union with U.S.

SAN JUAN, P.R. (UPI)—Tiny Anguilla Island which has been British since the 17th century declared itself independent Thursday night and asked the United States to take it under its wing.

Specifically, leaders of the 16-mile long and 3-mile wide dot in the Caribbean petitioned President Johnson for territorial status similar to that held by neighboring U.S. Virgin Islands.

Anguillian leader Peter Adams said the island has "broken all relations" with the central government of St. Kitts, 55 miles away. Adams earlier this month pulled Anguilla out of the British associated state it formed with St. Kitts and Nevis and asked London to give it associated statehood by itself. Britain last February gave the St. Kitts-Anguilla-Nevis federation limited independence, retaining control of foreign affairs and defence.

The tiny island has been shaken since independence by a wave of shooting and violence. Eventually opponents of the Bassettierie regime ousted the 17-man police force sent over by St. Kitts and set up a 15-man ruling committee.

The island is one of the few in the Caribbean that tourists pass up. It has one major source of income for its 6,000 all-Negro population—a salt-pond.

Canadian Uranium For Japan?

TOKYO (CP)—Two officials of Denison Mines Ltd. of Toronto are in Japan negotiating with officials of electrical utility companies and government officials to supply Canadian uranium as fuel for Japanese nuclear power plants.

General Manager John Kostulak and Director George Drew are the company officials who have been here all this week.

In Toronto, Stephen Roman, company president, said he had heard from Mr. Drew that the latter was "very pleased" with the progress made in meetings so far.

Mr. Roman said that if long-term uranium contracts are signed with Japan they will be worth far in excess of $100,000,000, and will be for a 10- or 15-year supply.

De Gaulle

French Military Near Revolt

PARIS (AP)—French informants disclosed Friday some political and military high-ups challenged President de Gaulle's decision to keep France neutral in the Middle East crisis, but their bid for an actively pro-Israeli policy failed.

"Quite a few military people recently were very close to revolt," one high source said. "At one time it was touch and go whether Defence Minister Pierre Messmer would resign."

The practical application of French neutrality in the Arab-Israeli feud is favoring the Arab countries, in the opinion of certain senior officials in the foreign ministry.

One immediate effect was to cut off Israel from its chief source of air force and armament supplies, spares and replacements. Arab states, on the other hand, appear to have been promised more military aid by De Gaulle's proclamation of neutrality has produced the short-term gain of consolidating France's developing friendship with the Arab countries, notably Algeria. But informants reported it has at the same time weakened official French links with the Israelis, almost to the point of hostility.

France's ambassador in Tel Aviv, Bertrande de la Sabliere, was said to have advised Paris he has lost effective working contact with the Israeli foreign ministry.

Taxes on Drugs

THE OTTAWA government has acted to reduce drug prices by removal of the 12 per cent federal sales tax from all drugs...

This proposal perhaps takes no cognizance of a difference between the two taxes. The B.C. tax is levied at the retail level...

I considered the narrower exemption covering only prescribed drugs which the committee recommended...

But the B.C. pharmacists have a good point when they argue that there are numerous remedies sold for the alleviation of minor ailments...

Besides, the manufacturers have been quick to indicate that not much of the saving through the federal exemption may find its way to the customer...

Work for Everyone

THE MINISTER OF national health and welfare, Hon. Allan J. MacEachen, is concerned about the basic problem of how to make our 19th century distribution system cope with the productive machinery of the late 20th century...

The implication is that purchasing power must in some way be transferred to the unprivileged 95 per cent whose productive services aren't required...

While the government has already adopted this approach on a limited scale, with the guaranteed income supplement for the aged, it might be suggested and not entirely facetiously that it has also, unconsciously, embarked on another course of action...

The population of Canada is growing at about 2 per cent a year. Recent reports from Ottawa indicate that the number of federal government employees has been growing at about 4 per cent a year...

Historical Art

ONE OF THE MOST attractive, interesting and informative publications of its kind, Imperial Oil Review for July 1, 1967, is entitled The Formative Years, Canada 1812-1871...

It is delightfully illustrated by works of the late Charles William Jefferys.

This truly great artist is too little known to Canadians, and yet he has contributed enormously to the recording of the nation's history.

Editor James Knight of Imperial Oil Review says: "Jefferys gave his historical characters such bounding life that his drawings have taken on the status of unofficial portraits."

The articles, all of them profusely illustrated by Jefferys' precisely authentic and detailed work, tell Canada's story of the period easily and excitingly.

Pettifogging Rule

PROHIBITION of parking longer than one hour or two hours as the case may be at meters fulfils one of the primary functions of the meters, which is to prevent monopolization of the spaces...

It's a small point, maybe—but worth a few minutes' review by the aldermen.

Ever stop to think maybe he's right?

Washington Calling

Russia's Mideast Miscalculation

By MARQUIS CHILDS

TWO years almost to the day from the onset of the Cuban missile crisis, Nikita Khrushchev was summarily removed as premier and head of the Communist party...

No one in the intelligence community is saying that the Kosygin-Brezhnev team that took over from Khrushchev in 1964 will be thrown out. But there is no denying the great strain resulting from the defeat both within the Soviet hierarchy and the Communist bloc...

The difference in interpretation turns on what the Soviet Union will do in the face of this humiliating reversal. The view in the U.S. is conditioned by the dire need to find some hopeful prospect...

Others with equal knowledge of the fantastic five days that shook the world consider this wishful thinking. They put it down to the same wishful, Micawberish belief that something must turn up to save an impossible situation...

In the sterner perspective the link between the Mideast crisis and Vietnam is unmistakable. The Soviets anticipated a crisis that would divert American attention and perhaps even American resources away from Southeast Asia...

A deeply disquieting factor in the assessment of the Mideast explosion is that the men in the Kremlin should have so miscalculated both the strength and the weaknesses of Nasser. Alarm in Europe

Rattletrap Flying

By NEAL ASCHERSON from Berlin

NOT a week after the two crashes of British charter aircraft in Stockport (England) and Perpignan (France), killing 160 people, West Germany withdrew landing permission at all airports for Globe Air. This Swiss charter company was the owner of an aircraft which flew into the ground in Cyprus on April 20 with the loss of 126 lives.

There is alarm and anger throughout West Germany at the condition and servicing of many charter aircraft. Right at the outset of the holiday season, the Hamburg Illustrated magazine, Stern, appalled its readers with a long and detailed report of an investigation into charter airlines and their standards.

Reporters from the magazine spent a few days strolling about Frankfurt and Hamburg airports, noting the condition of charter aircraft and taking discreet photographs. The results were frightening. At Frankfurt, a Dart Herald from a Bavarian charter company was seen with a totally worn-out tire on its undercarriage. A DC-7 from another company had its starboard landing flaps streaming with oil from a defective engine.

At Hamburg, the reporters noted their experience with charter aircraft in an hour-by-hour journal. "At 11:45, a Coronado from a Spanish charter company arrived from Palma, and took off again at 12:45. Where the port wing joined the fuselage, a 20-centimetre crack could be seen. When the machine arrived again in Hamburg on May 16 and took off once more, the crack seemed to have become longer."

At half-past three, another Spanish charter machine took off with oil dribbling from number one engine and filming over the undercarriage. A Bulgarian Ilyushin 18 on charter took off with tires worn bald, and its successor next day was in the same condition. A DC-7 belonging to a West German charter firm left crammed with tourists for the Costa Brava, black oil pouring out of number four motor and leaving a puddle on the concrete runway.

A little later another DC-7 of the same firm arrived from Barcelona with its engines leaking so copiously that the engineers said they must be changed.

However, the aircraft left the same day for Barcelona without any such overhaul. West German air safety officials admitted that they were too few in number to guarantee an effective watch on standards of safety and mechanical efficiency. But the root of the trouble seems to be the enormous expense of running an airline, an expense which constantly threatens to overwhelm the charter companies and tempts them to save money in perilous ways.

To begin with aircraft are old, sometimes very old indeed. Out of the 533 charter aircraft registered by West German authorities by German and foreign charter lines, no fewer than 495 were originally sold between 1935 and 1948. Stern further discovered that 352 of them were built between 1947 and 1956, "while only 115 can be considered modern."

A rattletrap four-motor aircraft at the end of a long and eventful existence can be had cheap; even Lufthansa's "Super Constellation" sold for only $7,000 each when they went out of service. The trouble is that an old plane costs vast sums to maintain—another temptation to save by negligence.

The magazine had more horrors to unfold when it came to describe the tricks used by charter pilots to save fuel—which costs more for smaller consumers than for big ones, encouraging the charter lines to buy the cheap and more inflammable air fuels. Some pilots who arrive over a large airfield and find themselves "stacked" in the queue of machines waiting to land simply cry emergency to the control tower. This means that they are given top priority for immediate landing, a neat way to save gallons of fuel which would otherwise be spent by circling for perhaps half an hour.

As a result of these exposures, the West German government is introducing a series of reforms to improve the watch over charter airlines and their aircraft and crews.

A powerful press campaign was launched to mend the shattered image and present the air charter firms as reliable, gracious, swinging, hospitable and safe—as the big state airlines imagine themselves to be. In Germany, at least, the stuffing was knocked out of this campaign by a ludicrous episode in Hamburg.

A Spanish charter firm, determined to drown Stern's criticisms in goodwill and champagne, arranged for a publicity reception at Hamburg Airport, to be followed by a press conference. The firm's chief executive himself was piloting a four-jet Coronado up to Hamburg full of tourists from Majorca. After landing, it was announced, he would address the journalists on air safety.

Time passed. The press in the lounge at Hamburg-Fuhlsbüttel looked at their watches. The Coronado was ever more overdue. Then came the news that the Spaniard had put down at what he thought was Fuhlsbüttel, but was in fact the very much shorter runway of an aircraft works on the other side of Hamburg. By the mercy of Heaven and some skill, he had brought the big jet to rest on the right side of the fence. The passengers were off-loaded into buses after a long wait. Meanwhile the journalists finished off the firm's champagne and went home, some laughing, and some not laughing at all.

Drug Prices

From The Globe and Mail

AS soon as Finance Minister Mitchell Sharp announced the removal of the 12 per cent sales tax from drugs, spokesmen for the industry rushed into print to explain that this would not mean a 12 per cent reduction in price to the consumer. The tax, they explained, was levied at the manufacturer's level, and did not amount to nearly 12 per cent by the time it reached the retail level. Some expressed their confidence that some of the saving would be passed on to consumers, but others gravely doubted that it could be. The tax cut would do no more, they suggested, than enable the industry to delay price increases.

It is curious how an industry's reasoning changes between the time it is pleading for a tax cut and the day after it has received a tax cut.

On May 2, 1963, John C. Turnbull, secretary-manager of the Canadian Pharmaceutical Association, appeared before the Carter Royal Commission on Taxation to urge the removal of the federal sales tax on drugs, which he described as a tax on sickness. He pointed out that in 1961 the tax returned $6.5 million to the federal treasury; but that with the tax being levied at the manufacturer's level, by the time it reached the consumer level it cost Canadians $11 million.

This near doubling in the effect on consumers of the tax bite occurred, he said, because when the tax was added at the manufacturing level it became a part of the cost of the drug on which markup and profit must then be calculated. That is, each middleman down to the final retailer collected profit not only on the real costs of producing and distributing the drug, but on the tax imposed on it as well. Mr. Turnbull waxed rather eloquent about the distressing effect of all this upon the sick person, who had no choice but to pay the charges.

Using Mr. Turnbull's 1963 reasoning, let us now examine the situation as it will exist in September when the tax is abolished. The manufacturer will no longer pay 12 per cent to the federal government, so the item will simply never get on the cost sheet and the drug wholesalers and distributors and retailers will never be put to the trouble of adding it in and calculating their markups and profits upon it.

The gain to the consumer, therefore, would be not the 12 per cent which the government will no longer take, but all the in-between profits on that 12 per cent, or somewhere in the neighborhood of 23 or 24 per cent. That is, it would be, if the concern for sick people expressed in 1963 by Mr. Turnbull on behalf of Canada's thousands of pharmacists was sincere.

The House of Commons committee on drugs seemed to doubt that it was. In its April report it suggested that the drug industry was more interested in its pockets than in sick people (except as a source of revenue). The committee found that Canadian drug prices were among the highest in the world, up 140 per cent in the past 16 years compared with 49.8 per cent for general consumer goods, and returning profits double that enjoyed by other manufacturing industries.

It is fairly obvious that the industry has not changed its nature with Mr. Sharp's announcement. It just intends to take most of the 12 per cent the government will no longer take and add it to its already excessive profits (with additional markups at every stage, of course).

Considering everything, it is just as well that the government has indicated that it has other weapons than tax cuts for forcing a reduction in the price of drugs.

Colonist PROFILES

'Pure Pizazza' Behind the Ivy

By GORDE HUNTER

The resemblance between Leslie Charles Parkinson and former Canadian pro football commissioner G. Sydney Halter is astounding, right down to the carefully clipped adornments on the upper lips. But whereas Mr. Halter was known far and wide for his rather austere, strictly business approach to his executive position, Les Parkinson is known just as far and wide for his rather swinging style of operation in the hotel business.

Mr. Parkinson, for those few who don't know, is the manager of the Empress Hotel, that ancient pile of ivy-covered brick reverently, or irreverently, called the Old Lady of Victoria.

Mr. Parkinson also is a sort of a contradiction. Impeccably tailored and turned out, he could quite easily have been sent to run the tradition-bound Empress by central casting in Hollywood. On the other hand, his methods of operation could be described as pure pizazza in the true Billy Rose tradition. When it comes to hustling new business for the Empress or dreaming up new touches for the giant renovation program going on at the hotel, he spends little time on the run-of-the-mill business of his profession.

Mr. Parkinson was born in Bristol, England (I'd better not mention the year) and came to Toronto as a one-year-old. After receiving his high school education there, he joined the Royal York Hotel in 1929. When war came he went overseas as a divisional catering officer with the 5th Canadian Division. In 1942, as a lieutenant-colonel, he was elevated to command of the RCASC catering wing in Aldershot. His outstanding work in this field got him a call to Buckingham Palace to pick up the Order of the British Empire.

He returned to civilian life in 1945 and for the next six years was back at the Royal York for stints as personnel manager and assistant manager. And although he never attended university, he lectured at the University of Toronto on hotel administration.

Then came managerial posts at such famous hostels as Digby Fines, Cornwallis Inn and the Chateau Lake Louise before his appointment as manager of the Empress in March, 1963.

And now, of course, Mr. Parkinson and the Empress are hip deep in renovations. The grand old lady of Victoria might just show up in a modified mini-skirt before the whole $4,000,000 job is through.

Empress a handicap in today's frenetic chase of the dollar?

"On the contrary, they come here because of our tradition. They want to have a bit of rest and quiet and when our program is completed, we'll really have something to sell them. It will be the finest little gem on the entire Pacific coast."

Mr. Parkinson's business hustle extends all the way to a weekly newsletter he composes himself. It's for the staff and for the edification of press, radio and TV and shows the manager isn't about to pass up any method of selling the Empress.

"The Empress is Victoria and what goes on here concerns Victorians. We like to keep them informed. And then there are the conventions—we have about 70 a year and they average out at about 185 persons for about three days apiece."

The concern for all the facilities is being felt in many cities and towns in many countries. Mr. Parkinson has a thick file of letters asking, in so many words, "say it isn't so!" Again, however, he feels they will all be pleasantly surprised when the job is finished.

Les Parkinson admits he was once a golf addict, but that he got mad at the game one Sunday in Aldershot many years ago and hasn't played since. He does keep in pretty good trim with daily swims and workouts at Ove Witt's health palace and still finds time to run the Empress' famed spring golf tournament every year.

All in all, it's a pretty full life for a man supposedly in charge of an ivy-covered mausoleum.

But Nerves Often Jangle

Welfare Rule: Courtesy Always

By A. H. MURPHY (Second of a series)

It's quite possible that some of his people may get a bit snarly with "clients" once in a while, says City welfare administrator Alex Davidson. They're human like everyone else and, after 25 or 30 interviews in a day, patience wears a bit thin.

But the members of his staff, most of whom are not professional social workers, are chosen for their ability to get along with people and their mature attitude toward life.

And there is a cardinal rule in the office, says the administrator, that no matter what peoples' circumstances may be they must be treated with courtesy and everything done to preserve their human dignity.

But applying for social assistance is still no fun. The applicant must, if single, have cash or assets of not more than $250 and double that amount if married. He is assumed to have no work of any kind and the office must be assured by Manpower that the federal agency has no work suitable for the applicant.

He must give authority to have his bank account, if any, checked and every other avenue is used to make sure that he has no resources and is a bona fide case of need.

Most people are straightforward about their affairs, said Mr. Davidson, but occasionally the office gets a devious one—the type of person who casts a reflection on every social assistance applicant.

Once cleared, the applicant gets his cheque by mail on the first day of every month.

Before May recipients had to pick up their cheques and this was a source of complaint.

The Low Income Group of Greater Victoria, a group which hears and channels the complaints of people who receive welfare, stated in a brief issued in March that people, particularly mothers, felt shame at being charged on the municipality and never was this feeling more intense than when they were forced to wait several hours in the poorly ventilated, crowded welfare office to pick up their cheques.

However, everything is now routed through the city's computer room at City Hall and that complaint has been eliminated.

The Victoria office has a staff of eight workers and two supervisors and each one of these carries a heavy caseload.

Mr. Davidson says his staff wants to make use of every possible facility for helping clients to improve their own lot but it is not easy when there are so few to deal with so many.

In addition to processing applicants, there are progress interviews and follow-ups all of which take time.

He emphasizes the city does not set the rates paid to recipients—it has no control whatsoever in this department. This is the exclusive responsibility of the provincial government.

Executives Set Pace For Union Demands

TORONTO—Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, says most of the contract proposals the union has made over the years have been borrowed from General Motors.

Mr. Reuther said Thursday night at a celebration marking the UAW's 50th year in Canada that everything proposed by the union—from pensions to guaranteed annual income—were part of GM's executive benefits.

At Themselves

Senators for New Look

By RONALD LEBEL
OTTAWA — Worried by growing agitation for the abolition or reform of the Senate, more and more senators are advocating a new look at their venerable institution.

Pressure is mounting for the creation of a special Senate committee to study ways of giving the upper house a larger, more influential role in the government.

"We must make changes or someone else will make ones that we will not like very much," Senator Allister Grosart (PC-Ontario) warned his colleagues this week.

The question was urgent because of constitutional studies by the Justice department and several provinces and forthcoming conferences.

Senator C. W. Carter (L-Newfoundland) shattered tradition with a blunt maiden speech criticizing the government for letting the Senate become a second-class chamber subject to public insult.

There is a great danger that the appointed chamber will disappear in the next 10 years if nothing positive is done to counter charges that it is a club for "party hacks and broken-down politicians," the long-time MP said.

Many senators in both parties support the idea of a committee to review the chamber's powers, and a government resolution is expected to be introduced this session.

"I've been trying to get this for a couple of years," Senator John Connolly, the government leader, said in an interview. "Now, we've got a groundswell."

He favored more inquiries into social problems, such as the recent ones on aging and divorce, and more discussion of international relations.

Senator Grosart, former national director of the Conservative party, said in an interview more government legislation should originate in the Senate and its committees.

Senate inquiries into controversial social issues, he said, saved the expense of costly royal commissions, produced faster recommendations and used the considerable talent and experience of the senators.

The original proposal for a committee study of "the place of the Senate in our government and the reform of our rules" was made May 15 by Opposition Leader Allan Rock. He criticized the practice of rushing complex government bills through the upper house in the final hours of a session.

Outside the Senate meanwhile, New Democrats and Creditistes campaign for the abolition of the appointed chamber, many Quebec groups call for a "bi-national" Senate—with half the members representing Quebec—and others favor the election of senators or short-term appointments.

Unminied Wife Divorced

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Last Wednesday, Gwynne Schaffer, 23, appeared in court clad in a brief makeshift. Judge A. A. Scott rebuked her for appearing so, and withheld her divorce decree.

Mrs. Schaffer reappeared Friday in a dress that was considerably longer—although still above the knees—and won her divorce without further fuss.

She divorced her husband, Ron Schaffer, 24, a musician, on grounds of cruelty.

Victoria Cross Winners Guests of Michener

OTTAWA (CP)—Governor-General Michener entertained 16 Canadian winners of the Victoria Cross at a Government House dinner Friday night. It was the first time Canadian winners of the Commonwealth's highest military decoration had gathered as a group in this country.

Also at the dinner was Ernest R. Frost of Carrying Place, Ont., a holder of the George Cross, the next-highest Commonwealth bravery award.

Guests at the private dinner included Prime Minister Pearson, Opposition Leader Diefenbaker and NDP Leader T. C. Douglas.

Victoria Cross winners at the dinner, arranged as part of Veterans Week celebrations, were: George Pearkes, lieutenant-governor of British Columbia and former Conservative defence minister; Frederick M. Harvey, Calgary; Thomas Dineson who now lives in Denmark; C. C. Merritt of Vancouver; John K. Mahony of London, Ont.; Raphael L. Zengel of Rocky Mountain House, Alta.; A. P. Brereton of Elnora, Alta.; F. A. Tilston of Aurora, Ont.; Rev. John W. Foote of Cobourg, Ont.; Charles S. Rutherford of Keswick, Ont.; Paul Triquet of Limoulu, Que.; A. D. Ross of Kingston, Ont.; Coulson N. Mitchell of Beaufort, Que.; E. A. (Smoky) Smith of Vancouver.

U.S. Rocket

German Satellite Up

NATAL, Brazil (AP)—A four-stage U.S. Javelin rocket carrying a West German experimental satellite was blasted into orbit at Brazil's Barreira base Friday.

Another satellite is scheduled to be launched today.

Brazilian, U.S. and West German scientists worked on the launching. The Javelin was expected to reach an altitude of 600 miles. The satellite carried a payload of six experiments.

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI)—America's Mariner 5 spacecraft is "functioning perfectly" as it speeds through space on a four-month trip which will culminate Oct. 19 when it flies by Venus.

Scientists say at least one midcourse manoeuvre—probably sometime next week—will be made to correct the 540-pound spacecraft's trajectory to put it on a perfect course.

Shelton Still Chief

Klan Asks FBI Look At 'Fake' Committee

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP)—A mysterious letter saying that Robert M. Shelton of Tuscaloosa, Ala., had been deposed as imperial wizard of the United Klans of America Inc. has led the Ku Klux Klan to call for an FBI investigation.

In a memorandum to the FBI and postal authorities, Shelton asked for an investigation of possible use of the mails to defraud.

The memo said a letter dated June 5, 1967, purporting to be from the "National Intelligence Committee" of the United Klans, said Shelton had been deposed.

Shrewsbury Rites Today

Funeral services will be held at 1:15 p.m. today in McCall Bros. for longtime Victoria resident Mrs. Minnie Shrewsbury, 1216 Gladstone, who died here Tuesday.

Mrs. Shrewsbury was born in Mendotone, Kent, England, and is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Dorothy Bradstock of Victoria, Mrs. Allison Boe, New Westminster, and Mrs. Betty Dash of Victoria, six grandchildren and two sisters and a brother in England.

Rev. A. E. King will conduct the services.

De Gaulle Freed

PARIS (Reuters)—President de Gaulle's government Friday was granted power to bypass the French parliament for the next four months and rule by decree in economic and social matters.

A government bill to clear the way for rule by decree was twice rejected by the Senate, but the National Assembly, which has the final say, passed the measure on its third reading.

Surprise visit to Europe by the Hon. John Gilbey

Entraining for an unannounced visit to Europe, the Hon. John Gilbey tells of his responsibilities as Gilbey's International Quality Controller.

"My gin has been the best gin in the world for no less than 110 years," says the Hon. John Gilbey. "I am going to Europe to make sure that the European Gilbey's London Dry matches the original English standards. I expect to find the subtle flavour that people call...the perfect balance for mixed drinks." Since Gilbey's International Quality Controller doesn't want elaborate arrangements made for his European visit, he kept his plans to himself.

Next time you see Gilbey's famous frosty bottle, remember the Hon. John Gilbey and his job as Gilbey's International Quality Controller. When you see the gin with the perfect balance for mixed drinks, bear in mind his proud words: "This is my gin. For no less than 110 years it has carried my family's name. Gilbey's London Dry is the gin with the perfect balance for mixed drinks. And I shall make sure it stays that way."

Angels Win Two

Woodie Has Fun Blasting Orioles

Woodie Held, traded by Baltimore to California, hit homers in his first two games for the Angels Friday night to lead his new team to a doubleheader sweep over the slumping Orioles.

Held, a 35-year-old veteran, won the first game 2-1 with a ninth-inning homer. His two-run homer in the third inning paced the Angels to a 5-3 victory in the second game for their fifth in a row.

Washington also swept a twin-bill from Boston, 1-0 and 4-3. Bob Priddy, who pitched the first seven innings for the Senators, squeaked home the lone run in the third inning of the opener on a two-strike bunt.

The Senators exploded for four runs in the ninth to take the nightcap. Ken McMullen beat the throw to the plate on Paul Casanova's bases-loaded grounder to score the winning run.

Chuck Hinton singled home Larry Brown to give Cleveland Indians a 2-1 triumph over Minnesota Twins in 10 innings. The other scheduled American League game, Kansas City Athletics at Detroit Tigers and New York at Chicago, were rained out.

Richardson Declines Ride on Shield

Blair Richardson, Canadian and British Empire middleweight boxing champion, announced his retirement Friday.

Richardson, 26, currently working on his master of arts degree at Emerson College in Boston, was scheduled to defend his Canadian championship at Glace Bay, N.S. June 24 against Jimmy Melleur of Windsor, Ont., now fighting out of New York.

"I have considered this to some time," Richardson said. "I made the decision after I had talked with trainer Freddy Brown. Freddy told me I never looked better, but I had lost my viciousness.

"I did not want to continue and let my Cape Bretoners down if I didn't have that desire. I felt that I wanted to retire on a high note."

Richardson won the Canadian title from Wm Greaves in 1962 and the British Empire crown from Gomo Brennan of the Bahamas in 1965.

In New York, Melleur said, "A champion should lose his title in the ring and not do it this way."

His manager, Al Backman, called Richardson's action "a dastardly trick."

Richardson

Backman continued, "Jim was up for this fight—in great condition—and Richardson just didn't have the intestinal fortitude to meet him.

"What he has done is left this fight going back to April 29. We have lost between $2,000 and

Young Athletes Compete

With high school track and field tucked out of the way, the younger athletes take over the Victoria High School track today for the Royal Canadian Legion zone track and field event.

The zone meet involves youngsters from about eight to 17. For many of them, this year marked their first experience with proper training and coaches.

The Legion puts up much of the money for the program, and local track clubs provide the coaches, chiefly George Dean of the Mercury Track Club and Olie Sarkannas of the Optimist Spartan club.

Today's meet starts at 1:30 p.m. with 30 track events and 26 field events to be run off.

Mosport Proves Tough For Foyt and Andretti

MOSPORT, Ont. (CP)—Three of the hottest drivers in the business will be riding the back of the pack today when the flag drops to send some 20 Indianapolis-type cars away in the Indy 200.

A. J. Foyt, winner of the 1967 Indianapolis 500 and Le Mans; Mario Andretti and Joe Leonard all failed to qualify Friday and they—with any late entries—will draw lots for positions at the back of the grid.

Bobby Unser of Albuquerque, N.M., in a Ford, posted the top qualifying time of 1:26.22, covering the 2.5-mile, twisting road course in the slow time of approximately 102 miles an hour.

Wing-Ding Lion Bid Falls One Run Short

Red Lions slugged out six hits and scored six runs to tie the game.

And they thought they had it when they scored twice in the top of the ninth inning.

Red Lion Inn staged a wing-ding seventh-inning rally and almost won its second game of the Senior Men's Open Softball League season Friday at Central Park.

But not quite. Red Lions finally lost their 14th game of the season, 9-8, to Colony Inn, but it took two extra innings for Colony to take it.

SIX BUNS SCORE The Colony club appeared to be home free with a 6-0 lead as Red Lions came to bat in the top of the seventh inning. But Quartermaster Karl Swenson, formerly of Toronto Argonauts, has signed his 1967 contract with Detroit Lions of the National Football League.

Charles Grosse of Nebraska has tied the world record for the 100-yard dash in 9.1 seconds at the NCAA track and field championships in Provo, Utah.

FRANK ROBINSON of Baltimore Orioles has said he didn't mean to call any of his teammates "jealous" of him when he tried to diagnose the Orioles' problems in the American League this season.

"Jealousy is not the right word," Robinson said Friday. "I used the wrong word when I said that. I was trying to come up with a word to replace disension."

Uruguay will not send a basketball team to the Pan-American Games in Winnipeg.

Palmer Drives to Open Lead Nicklaus One Stroke Behind

SPRINGFIELD, N.J. (AP)—Arnold Palmer surged to a one-stroke lead over his main rival, Jack Nicklaus, as the amateur threat faded Friday in the second round of the U.S. open golf championship.

The golfing businessman unleashed three birdies on the final nine for a two-under-par 68 and a 36-hole score of 137.

Nicklaus, playing superb golf through suffocating heat, had finished two hours earlier with a 67 for 138 and just one stroke behind him was the calm, unspectacular defending champion Bill Casper, with a second-round 70 for 138.

CASPER'S RALLY Casper rallied from seven strokes back with nine holes to play to tie Palmer last June in San Francisco and then came from behind again in winning the playoff by four strokes the following day.

Some golf observers had predicted Palmer would never recover from the shame and psychological effects of his amazing collapse.

So it is the game's Big Three—Palmer, Nicklaus and Casper—at the head of the pack going into the climactic two rounds today and Sunday.

Meanwhile, Marty Fleckman, surprising amateur who shot into the first-round lead with a 67 Thursday dropped back.

Back in the pack was Al Baiding, Toronto pro who failed to qualify for the Open but who got in anyway to take the place of a golfer who had to drop out.

Balding shot a two-over-par 72 to go with Thursday's 75 for a 36-hole total of 147.

Balding just barely made the cut of 148. In all 65 players got the necessary 148 or better. Three former champions, Tommy Bolt, Jack Fleck and Gene Littler were dropped. They had 149, 149 and 151, respectively.

It was so hot and humid over the 7,015-yard, par-70 Baltusrol course that many of the more than 20,000 spectators deserted the course and sought shelter under the trees.

Palmer, Nicklaus and Casper were the only players under par for two rounds while Devlin, Beman and Fleckman were the only ones to match it.

Randy Don January, a 12-year veteran, fought out of the rough all day—missing all but four fairways—in registering a 72 which placed him at 141.

Lee Trevino, Bob Hold, veteran Ken Nagle of Australia, the former British Open champion, and gangling George Archer were tied at 142.

For a brief moment it appeared that the end of a bid might come for 55-year-old Ben Hogan, gallant winner of four opens.

But after going three-over par through the first nine holes, he determined a mechanical Hawk rallied for his second 72 and a score of 144.

Palmer, beaten in playoffs in three of the last five opens, was again a confident, determined and pleased man.

"I liked my round," he said. "I hit every green but on e and I missed few fairways."

After turning in 35, one-over par without a birdie, Arnie knocked in a 25-footer at the 10th hole, laid another up within three feet at the 15th and birdied the 623-yard 17th by pitching to within 10 feet and knocking in the putt.

Coquitlam Can Gain First Place

It will be Monday or Tuesday before Victoria Shamrocks know whether they really own the two points from their Inter-City Lacrosse League game Wednesday against Vancouver Carlings.

I.C.L. Commissioner George Wainborn says he will get the report of referee Whitey Severson on tonight's Coquitlam-New Westminster game. Then Wainborn will take the matter under consideration.

The problem arose Wednesday when Victoria and Vancouver finished regulation time tied 8-4 at Memorial Arena. Overtime has traditionally been played in Victoria but the Carlings claimed they had to catch their plane. They didn't come back on the floor, and Shamrocks scored into an open net for an apparent 9-4 win.

Carlings have protested. As things stand now, Shamrocks and Carlings are tied for first place in the standings with 15 points. With a win tonight, however, Coquitlam can take over on top with 16 points. After tonight's game, all clubs will have played 14 games.

At this stage, too, first and second place hold a little more importance. Wainborn has said the two top teams on July 9 will play an attractive sounding exhibition game July 30 in Seattle as part of Seafair Week.

Seals Fire Rudy Pilous

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—San Francisco Seals of the National Hockey League fired general manager Rudy Pilous Friday and handed his job to their new coach, Bert Olmstead.

Owner-chairman Harry van Gerbig said there was a basic disagreement with Pilous over operational policy. He indicated there will be a cash settlement for the remaining three years of Pilous' four-year contract.

Canadian Pitcher Moves to Braves As Rosters Frozen

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Claude Raymond, a Canadian, was swapped to Atlanta Braves by Houston Astros for former bonus baby Wade Blasingame as the 20 major league teams completed their deals by the June 15 deadline.

All major league rosters now are frozen except for waiver moves and shuffling of farm club players.

Blasingame, 23, a left-handed pitcher, got $100,000 bonus in 1961 to sign with the Braves—then in Milwaukee.

Raymond, 30, native of St. Jean, Que., was named to the National League's all-star team last year as a relief pitcher.

A Braves' spokesman described Raymond as "a tremendous relief pitcher." He has a 0-4 record this season and Blasingame is 1-2.

Raymond's record last year was 7-5 in 52 relief appearances. During 92 innings in 1966, he struck out 73, and walked 25 and had a 3.13 earned run average.

A group life insurance salesman in St. Jean during the winter, Raymond capitalized on a fast ball with a good slider during his pitching duties.

SOX TRADE STROUD

In the American League, the league-leading Chicago White Sox, sacrificing speed for occasional home run power, traded left fielder Ed Stroud, a 27-year-old outfielder who was hitting .286 but riding the bench, to Washington Senators for Jim King, a former outfielder with Toronto Maple Leafs of the International League.

King, 34, had a .210 average but he has hit 89 homers in the majors in his career. Stroud led three leagues in stolen bases in four previous years of pro ball.

BIRDS GET PITCHER

Baltimore Orioles traded for pitching, acquiring left-handed Marcelino Lopez, 23-year-old Cuban, from California Angels for utility man Woody Held.

Lopez has been on the disabled list part of this year due to a sore shoulder. He has an 0-2 record. Held, 34, was hitting .146 for the Orioles.

The Angels picked up another outfielder in Roger Repox, a powerful but inconsistent slugger, from Kansas City Athletics for 33-year-old Jack Sanford, a right-handed pitcher who had made the rounds.

Repox, 26, was hitting .241 and had two homers when he left for two weeks of army duty. Sanford, a 13-7 surprise for the Angels last year, was 3-2 this season with a 4.47 earned run average. The Athletics also get an unidentified triple A player who will be assigned to their Vancouver farm team.

Electricians Use Walks In 14-1 Rout

Friday was a lovely night for a walk.

And Denford Electric took advantage of it.

The electricians took 20 walks on their way to 14-1 rout of Strathcona Hotel in a Junior Men's Softball League game at Central Park.

Denford managed only five hits, but the walks and four runs batted in by Gary McInnis provided them with more than enough impetus to pick up the victory.

Denford Electric 14-1 Strathcona Hotel. Denford: Gary McInnis, Brian Fraser, Ray Paul Morrison, Ray Alder, Reg Simons, Al, Alex Eddy (3) and Robin Allan.

Goodmanson And Taylor Reach Final

Martin Taylor and Ivor Goodmanson will meet Jim Hassard and Glen MacDonald in the final of the men's doubles at the Oak Bay Tennis Club Sunday.

Today, semi-finals in other events are scheduled.

Taylor and Goodmanson defeated Don Duncan and Bob Favacho, 6-3, 6-2, in their semi-final Friday, while Hassard and MacDonald disposed of Howie Tooby and Jake Sotkowsky, 3-6, 6-1, 8-6.

Today's draw:
10:30 a.m. Marty Taylor vs. Jim Hassard; Jake Sotkowsky vs. Ivor Goodmanson; Bill Wilson vs. Larry Larson; Virginia Rogers vs. Ivy Hill.
11:30 a.m. Glen MacDonald and Faith Graham vs. Bud Price and Owen Glen; Larry Wood vs. Don Stronon.
1:30 p.m. Taylor and Goodmanson and Solly Wood vs. Martin Taylor and Mary Van Tass; Bud Price and Mickey Mac vs. Dennis Glen and Mike Mannering.

Lions Get Bernie Faloney

MONTREAL (CP) — Quarterback Bernie Faloney, who celebrated his 35th birthday Thursday, started his 36th year involved in a trade that sends him to his fourth Canadian Football League club since 1954.

Montreal Alouettes, who in 1965 signed Faloney to a three-year contract at a reported annual salary of $37,500 including bonuses, announced Friday the veteran will go to B.C. Lions in exchange for 23-year-old Mike Webster, a Canadian lineman trained at Notre Dame University at South Bend, Ind.

Webster, born of Scottish-Italian parentage in Victoria, was an all-star at Vancouver's Gladstone High School before attending the United States college.

The Lions' desperate need for a top experienced quarterback came with the suspension of regular Joe Kapp.

Key Dalton, Als' head coach, said he feels Webster can start for his club on either offence or defence.

In Vancouver, Dave Skrien, Dalton's opposite number, said he is not "concerned by Faloney's age."

"What matters is whether the player can produce, and we know Faloney still can. Bernie's a good runner and fine passer and above all he's been a winner most of his career."

Faloney burst on the Canadian football scene with a vengeance in 1954 when he came directly from the University of Maryland—where he was an all-star—to lead Edmonton Eskimos to a 26-25 Grey Cup victory over the Montrealers.

After a year's military service in the U.S., Faloney joined Hamilton Ticats and led that club to seven championships in the next eight seasons. In 1965 he figured in a trade that brought him to the Als.

Rebuff Never Came

Swim Snaps Upset Jackie

Caroline

WATERFORD, Ireland (UPI) — Caroline Kennedy took one of the most-photographed morning swims in Irish history Friday and her mother was upset.

More than 50 photographers caught Caroline, 10, and half a dozen other children having a mid-morning dip in the Channel near the Woodstown estate where the Kennedys are guests of Murray McDonnell, a Wall Street broker.

Romping, splashing and giggling in the water, the children were suddenly spotted by the photographers, some already in the water themselves.

CAMERA CLICK — The clicking and whirring cameras made it one of the most-photographed swims in Irish history.

Although the children voiced no objections to all the fuss, a husky security agent abruptly rounded them up and drove them back to the estate's mansion in a station wagon.

Mrs. Kennedy was upset enough by the incident to call Ireland's department of external affairs and ask them to issue a statement.

PERSONAL APPEAL — "Mrs. Kennedy is deeply perturbed by the treatment given her daughter Caroline," said the announcement issued by external affairs office spokesman Paul Keating.

"She will meet newsmen outside the gates of Woodstown House this afternoon to make a personal appeal for privacy."

CAME ON HORSEBACK — Mrs. Kennedy, Caroline and John later arrived on horseback at the gates of the estate. Newman waited for a sharp rebuff. It never came.

Mrs. Kennedy said "Hello," then turned things over to a spokesman.

All he said was the morning incident was a big mistake — Mrs. Kennedy thought the beach was private when it really wasn't.

Then the Kennedys obliged photographers by riding around for some 15 minutes.

Mrs. Kennedy said "Hello," then turned things over to a spokesman.

Sawmill Patrols Booms

PRINCE GEORGE (CP) — A lumber company assigned night riders to its log booms Thursday after seven were cut loose and 90,000 logs drifted about 300 feet into Francois Lake, about 90 miles east of here.

The logs, which took 12 men in four tugs 14 hours to corral, are scheduled to be part of a controversial drive Monday down the Stellako River to the sawmill on Fraser Lake.

General Manager Donald Berry of Fraser Lake Sawmills Ltd. said boom chains were mysteriously disconnected late Tuesday and early Wednesday and several men have been posted to night duty to see it does not happen again.

FISHING DERBY — Resort operators on Francois Lake have organized a fishing derby at the outlet of the lake Monday in a bid to slow the drive, which they say damages fish spawning beds.

Douglas Kelly, secretary of the resort operators, said the boats in the derby will leave only a channel large enough to float through one log a time.

RCMP, who were notified of the cut booms, said constables will be at the scene when the drive is held to guarantee there is no breach of peace.

Contract Talks — VANCOUVER (CP) — Negotiations have opened here for a new contract for 5,000 lumber workers in the southern interior and in Prince George for 2,600 workers in the northern interior.

Peloquin

Noted Composer Coming to City

Composer-conductor Dr. Alexander Peloquin of Boston College will hold workshops in choral technique and repertoire as part of a Liturgical Week to be sponsored by the Roman Catholic Diocese of Victoria, July 28 to Aug. 4 in St. Ann's Academy.

Designed to appeal to Catholics and non-Catholics alike, the week will have liturgical renewal as its theme. It is aimed at teachers, students, priests and laity, all who are involved in church life and worship.

An extensive program covering all aspects of the liturgical field will feature Bishop Remi De Roo, Father William Hill, who is returning to Victoria from studies in Rome; Father John Zupderwick and other specialists.

Dr. Peloquin's career embraces nearly every aspect of musical achievement—composition, performance, writing and lecturing.

His most recent major works are Missa Christus Rex, Missa Domini, Toccata for organ, a Te Deum for mixed voices and orchestra and a setting of Poe's The Bells for mixed chorus and percussion ensemble, a festival mass for the 400th anniversary of St. Augustine's Church, Mass for Joy and a Christmas concerto.

He has conducted a group known as the Peloquin Chorale on the Catholic Hour on radio for more than 15 years. He has conducted four, one-hour specials for CBS-TV and appeared on Directions 64 and 65 on ABC-TV.

Three years ago he conducted the Liturgical Conference National Choir in the first Catholic English high mass in the U.S., most of the music for which he composed.

At Boston College he conducts the University Chorale of 180 voices in an extensive series of concerts. He is also musical director of the Cathedral of St. Peter and Paul in Providence, R.I.

His workshops, some under the auspices of the Gregorian Institute, have taken him through most of the U.S., Canada and Europe. He recently returned from a tour of Italy, Belgium and Germany.

Dr. Peloquin has also conducted a wide range of non-religious music, most recently a concert performance of Bizet's Carmen.

Fees for the week are nominal, ranging from $1 for a weekday, $5 for a weekend, to $8 for the whole week, with special rates for students and couples.

Sr. Patricia Thibault at St. Ann's Academy, 384-5521, is looking after registration.

In City Churches

Centennial Crisis Sermon Topic

Canada has reached a critical point in its development, according to Rev. Norman Archer of Emmanuel and Stevenson Memorial Baptist Churches.

"The whole future of our country depends upon decisions reached today," he said Friday, "and in the face of grave national and international tensions the gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ is desperately needed."

"It is immensely relevant, vitally real and wonderfully practical."

CANADIAN SCENE

Mr. Archer will review the Canadian scene in this centennial year and will demonstrate how the nation has reached this critical point.

Centennial Crisis is the title he has chosen for his sermon in the two churches Sunday morning. It is third in a series, A Relevant Gospel. He will continue his series on Elijah Sunday evening in Emmanuel Church.

McColl is guest organist Sunday, J. W. Bell is soloist.

Guest speaker at the 11 a.m. Sunday service in Victoria Truth Centre is Robert Ferguson. His subject is Your Mind Can Heal You. At 7:30 p.m. Dr. Emma M. Smiley will speak on Eternity and I.

Healing meetings are held in the centre at 3 p.m. every Tuesday.

The lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches this Sunday is entitled: Is the Universe, Evolved by Atomic Forces? The responsive reading is from Psalms and includes these verses: "All Thy works shall praise Thee, O Lord... They shall speak of the glory of Thy kingdom, and talk of Thy power."

Guest preacher in Christ Church Cathedral Sunday morning is Bishop H. R. Ragg. A former bishop of Calgary, he is well known in Victoria. He and Mrs. Ragg lived here about 12 years ago and have come back to make their home in Victoria again.

Angels Unaware is the topic of Rev. R. J. D. Morris' sermon at 9:30 and 11 a.m. Sunday in First United Church. Thomas McKeachie will share in the conduct of the 11 a.m. service, which will be broadcast at 7 p.m. over CKDA. Soloist at this service is W. H. Gregory.

At 7:30 p.m. in the chapel, Rev. Marvin Fowler will consider the question, What is God Like?

A missionary from Singapore will be guest speaker at Central Baptist Church at 11 a.m. Sunday. He is Sam Lewis of the Overseas Missionary Fellowship. He and Mrs. Lewis have been working with a Singapore church in a program of evangelizing the Muslim community in the area. His topic Sunday is Maintaining the Balance.

At 7 p.m. Rev. J. G. Freeland of Bethel Baptist Church, Montreal, will speak.

Mr. Freeland is chairman of the French Canada mission board of the Fellowship of Evangelical Baptist Churches in Canada and will be one of the speakers at the convention of Regular Baptist Churches of B.C. in Vancouver Tuesday to Thursday.

There will be a family service and Sunday school closing exercises in Wilkinson Road United Church this Sunday. Soloist at the 11:15 a.m. service will be George Roberts.

At the 10 a.m. service at Garden City United Church, Rev. J. R. Whitmore will discuss God's Challenge. The anthem will be Incline Thine Ear.

Era Dying Not God Says Retiring Cleric

The once comfortable pew and the theologian's sedate chair have been battered from without and shaken from within. Theology has not escaped from the pressures about us.

This is the opinion of Rev. H. T. Allen who will preach his final sermon at James Bay United Church at 11 a.m. Sunday, closing a ministry of 44 years, about four years of which were at James Bay.

The United Church Women have arranged a reception following the service to honor Mr. and Mrs. Allen, who will make an extensive trip to the Prairies and eastern Canada to visit relatives, before returning home to Victoria.

"Ours is turbulent time," Mr. Allen says, reflecting on retirement. "In intellectual circles and social movements a parallel exists with the international situation."

TENSION RISING

"In the world there is tension arising from the need to accommodate the presence and aspirations of new nations. A similar tension arises from the need to recognize new horizons of thought in which some old ideas have taken on a new significance."

"Death of God theologians probably indicate the reality of a dying age more than they proclaim a vanished creator. But this breaking of accustomed patterns of thought can bring much alarm to those who equate inadequate concepts with basic truth."

MICRO HORROR

On the other hand, much unnecessary harm can come from groups and from ideas which break, like rampaging elephants, into the fragile wares of yesterday's china shop.

"These changes must occur. We could not continue with a world which was satisfied, socially or philosophically, with the lopsidedness that has developed through the last century. Its correction is part of the urgent agenda of our time, which we ignore at our peril, as we in this month of grace have been only too forcefully reminded."

SPACE AGE

Mr. Allen says the world of thought could not remain unaffected by the expanding technologies of a space age nor could a religious outlook which had not properly absorbed the viewpoints of its great teachers maintain its unnatural yet dissatisfied acceptance of an individualistic and materialistic economic philosophy.

"At last we are getting to know more widely the broad horizons and spiritually grounded realities of the mind of Jesus."

LONG OVERDUE

Mr. Allen believes this religious and social updating of the world is long overdue. That is why it comes with a rush, like long-dammed floods bursting forth.

"In Canada we have been slow in many ways to move along progressive lines. Our lardy adoption of medicare is an indication," he says, "of the influence of a laggard philosophy in our society. Thirty-five years ago I had expected Canada to arrive in the mid-50s as a point we will not probably attain before the 70s."

World changes are overtaking an unprepared world, although they are not coming too fast to meet the urgent need for social justice and human rights.

"The churches are gearing themselves on a world scale to enter the new age of man. In this new age we must not make a mistake of sophistication for maturity. This is the meaning of the sex problem of today. Our knowledge outruns our wisdom. Our people must learn how to distinguish between worn out routines and the permanent values."

TRUE TO ITSELF

"Christian faith means fellowship, responsibility and sharing. It cannot be insular, parochial and ingrown and still be true to itself."

Mr. Allen believes we should soon have a universal income floor for our whole population and at the same time benefit from full employment. For Canada to look beyond its own prosperity to world service will then be only enlightened self-interest, a necessity for self-respect in a world half-deprived.

CAN'T BE DELAYED

He feels organized world co-operation cannot come too soon, to permit the liquidation of power blocs and to secure a diversion of labor and materials into world development from war and armaments.

"This cannot be delayed without disaster," he emphasizes.

He believes that, in the growing spiritual unity, outlook and program of the major church bodies, a moral force is growing which will dissolve remaining reluctances to come together in closer thought and decision.

"Peace, social change and world understanding have been watchwords of my ministry. I hope to continue in these later years in ways which may develop. I see them still as continuing guidelines of the practical expression of our Christian faith and hope."

Mormonettes To Give New Concert

The second of two concerts will be given in the chapel of the Mormon Church at 2590 Quadra at 8:30 p.m. today.

The concert will be given by the Mormonettes, a trio consisting of Eleanor Radeck, Mavis Roegle and Evelyn Layton. The girls won a first class mark at this year's music festival.

Proceeds go toward the new Cultural Hall being added to the chapel.

Anglican, United Churches In Need of Camp Leaders

A report on the recent Presbyterian Congress of the Presbyterian Church in Canada will be given Sunday morning in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church by Merlin Hawes and David McLean.

The two men, along with Allen Glen and Edna Auger, were among 800 Presbyterian representatives from every province in Canada who met in Kingston, Ont.

PROMOTION RITES

Dr. J. L. W. McLean will conduct the service which will include the annual promotion ceremony of the church school. In the evening, Rev. Bruce Molloy will speak on A New Beat. He will be assisted in the service by Mr. Glen. William

The Anglican Church's Camp Columbus is still in need of leaders.

There are vacancies for staff members at all camps. Especially needed are men for the teen boys' camp June 30 to July 5 and older boys as hut leaders for the younger boys' camp in August.

Free food and accommodation is supplied to all staff members, their wives and children. Dean Brian Whitlow is taking applications.

There is an urgent need for leaders for the boys' camp of the United Church's George Pringle Memorial Camp from July 22 to 29. Mrs. Joan Sharpe, 477-1576, is taking applications.

The Nanose Bay camp of the Pentecostal Assemblies of Canada will be held from July 3 to 23.

First session is the boys' and girls' camp from July 3 to 8. Speakers will be Rev. and Mrs.

S. Johnson. Mrs. O. Fawcett, 662 Canterbury, Victoria, has information.

The youth camp will be held from July 8 to 14 with Rev. W. F. Rourke as speaker. Garnet Riviere, 1004 Fern, Victoria, has information. Adult camp will be in session from July 5 to 23 with Rev. W. F. Rourke and Mr. Bombay as speakers. Mrs. Albert Lindoff, 905-10th, Port Alberni, has information.

De Roo On Panel

Bishop Remi De Roo of Victoria will attend a major theological congress in Toronto this summer, sponsored by the Roman Catholic bishops of Canada.

The congress is designed to cope with some of the serious questions of contemporary religious thinking and will feature speakers from several Christian denominations as well as the Jewish faith.

The congress will gather top minds of the theological world just one month before the first meeting of the General Synod of bishops of the Roman Catholic Church.

Bishop De Roo will be a member of a daily press panel at the congress.

RC Brother Returns

Brother Joseph Hensley, former teacher at St. Louis College, has returned to Victoria to do summer research for his master's degree.

Brother Joseph is now teaching at Cantwell High School, Montebello, Calif., after seven years at St. Louis teaching Grades 5 to 11.

Fifteen of his former students turned a motorcade of cars escorted in the school colors of yellow and green and welcomed him when he arrived this week at Patricia Bay Airport.

In addition to his classroom duties, Brother Joseph coached St. Louis College football and basketball teams. The college team the Victoria bantam football league championship last year.

Fair Today At Church

Garden City United Church is holding its Fun Fair from 1 to 6 p.m. today at the church, corner of Carey Road and Norwood.

There will be pony rides, a merry-go-round, games of skill, home-baking, delatessen and refreshment stalls. A fancy dress parade for children will be judged at 2 p.m. and there will be a program of singing and dancing at 2:30 and 3:30 p.m.

Native Daughter Dies Started Wayside House

A native daughter of Victoria, Wayside House at 550 Foul Bay Road, died suddenly last Saturday.

Miss Pottinger trained as a Christian Science nurse and about 35 years ago, she cared for a patient in a room of her parents' home on Vancouver Street.

Recognizing the need of many for such nursing care, she devoted her whole life to the development and expansion of this service.

About 10 years ago her work blossomed into fruition in the present Wayside House. Here, situated in two acres of secluded garden, is a gracious Tudor home with modern nursing wings. It is licensed by the provincial government and provides care of those who rely on Christian Science.

One of her Victoria colleagues said "It can be said that the radiant exemplified a high purpose, expressed in the poet's words: 'A noble type of good, heroic womanhood.'"

Old Church in New Dimension

Well-known red brick Oak Bay United Church at Mitchell and Grand takes on new dimension when seen, depicted in oils, through eyes of Victoria artist G. K. Webb. Church, built in 1914 as St. Columba Presbyterian, acquired its first pipe organ and electronic carillon last fall.

Christian Scientists

Sect Not Against Doctors

A question that is often asked by the public about Christian Scientists bears on their attitude towards doctors.

Do they refuse all medical treatment throughout their lives? If they are attended by a medical physician are they tossed out of the church? Are they against doctors?

J. N. Murdoch of the church's committee on publication for Victoria has supplied the answers to these and other questions.

Mr. Murdoch says his church's answer to all these is "No."

"This is a common misconception. It is true that we have a different approach to healing. We rely on prayer and spiritual means and feel that healing on this basis is a natural part of Christian life. But we have warm respect for the efforts of all people who are trying to relieve suffering."

The church recommends the use of a medical physician in childbirth. In the case of broken bones, the church does not deny the use of medical science to its members but does point to thousands of "authenticated cures and healings" of injuries without the use of medical science.

Practitioners are distinct is not lost in death. In Christ Jesus we see what it really means to be fully at one with God — to live in the clear light of God's reality.

What is Christian Science practitioner? A practitioner is a member of the Church who gives all his time to a public ministry of healing through prayer as understood in Christian Science.

Some 7,000 practitioners meeting Church standards are listed in a monthly directory in The Christian Science Journal. Anyone may seek their spiritual help.

Ticket Booth Confessional

SLIPPERY ROCK, Pa. (AP) — The marquee over the Roxy Theatre offers The Blue Max and Fanny HRR, Memora of a Woman of Pleasure. But the line of young people who gather on Sunday aren't going to see the movies.

They're waiting to confess in the box office. Rev. Richard Ragni, a Roman Catholic priest, sits behind a folding screen in the cramped little booth. Afterwards, all adjourn to the padded seats of the musty theatre, a portable altar is pulled from beneath the glittering screen and mass is celebrated.

When there's no place else, the church must make do, says Father Ragni, 33, a former U.S. Air Force intelligence agent.

"The church is really very flexible in the presentation of the sacramental life. The priest can say mass anywhere when it comes down to it. We don't need a big facility like a marble cathedral to function."

"Using the ticket booth and the theatre may be a bit unorthodox, but the students and I haven't any qualms about it."

For Father Ragni and the 1,100 Roman Catholics among the students of Slippery Rock State College, use of the theatre is a necessity. There are no facilities on campus for religious services. St. Peter's, the only Roman Catholic Church in this college town 50 miles north of Pittsburgh, is too small. Mass is celebrated twice each Sunday at the Roxy. No movies are shown there on Sundays.

"I found the ticket booth as a confessional is ideal, and so

Toronto Minister:

Canadian Churches In Serious Slump

TORONTO (CP) — A United church minister says Canada's booming churches of the '30s have gone into a slump.

"In many ways the religious picture in Canada has become like that in Britain," says Rev. A. Leonard Griffith, who, in 1963, touched off an outcry in Britain when he said here "there is more religion in Central Africa than in England."

Canada, Mr. Griffith says, seems to be undergoing the same religious metamorphosis that hit Britain after the First World War.

LOSING CONTACT "The church seems to be losing contact with young people and there is a decline in response to preaching."

"Financial support has slumped. In the 1950s church budgets were mushrooming but now, for the first time since my ordination in 1945, I've heard of serious decreases in giving."

"There is a dramatic shrinkage in the ministry with an increasing number of dropouts. In the United Church, the enrolment of theological students is half of what we need."

NOT DISMAYED Mr. Griffith isn't dismayed by the trend towards secularization of Canadian society — "I don't say the church is getting weaker, I'd rather say that what is happening is a stripping down of the institutional structures."

"In the process, the church actually may become stronger."

The most hopeful change in Canada was the ecumenical mood. "The first visitor in our home to welcome us here was the local Roman Catholic priest — that wouldn't have happened in the days before I went to Britain."

JUDGMENT MELLOWED Mr. Griffith, who last July returned from six years of service in the City Temple of London, has mellowed his judgment about religion in Britain, which, in 1963, stirred a sharp rejoinder from the Archbishop of Canterbury.

"It's true that institutional Christianity in Britain is weak, but on the whole the people still follow Christian ideals and those ideals are remarkably integrated into British society."

"However, most people have rejected the church — it just doesn't figure in their lives."

In Greater London, on any given Sunday, only two per cent of the population were in church.

Lutheran Medal Planned

MONTREAL (CP) — Lutherans plan to mark 450 years of Lutheranism as well as Canada's centennial this year.

Some of the projects outlined before the recent sixth convention of the Eastern Canada Synod were:

• Commemoration by a plaque in Churchill, Man., of the first Lutheran service in Canada, held in 1916 by a Danish expedition wintering in Hudson Bay.

• A special medal with Martin Luther and the words "500th Anniversary of Reformation on one side, and on the other side the Canadian centennial symbol with a cross."

Pesky Ants Not Canadian

OTTAWA (CP)—Carpenter ants in Australia did not come from Canadian lumber, Trade Minister Winters said in the Commons Thursday.

Social Credit Leader Patterson said newspaper reports from Australia attributed an invasion of insects to a shipment of lumber from Canada.

Mr. Winters said the ship in question did not load lumber in Canada and had made several other stops before reaching Australia. He said the ship did take some lumber in Montreal as damage, but this shipment was properly cured and fumigated.

Scientists Not Target Of Attack

TORONTO (CP)—J. H. Devlin, Canadian president of Rothmans of Pall Mall, denied Friday he had accused medical researchers of spreading unscientific accusations regarding any connection between cigarette smoking and lung cancer.

Federal Health Minister MacEachen Thursday attacked an earlier statement by Mr. Devlin that some people have made misleading statements and unscientific accusations concerning the cigarette smoking-lung cancer issue for the purpose of gaining personal publicity.

ADDING YEARS

Mr. MacEachen said in a statement in Ottawa that Mr. Devlin's accusation was leveled at national governments, dedicated scientists and voluntary and professional organizations who have been devoting themselves to adding years to human life.

Mr. Devlin said in an interview Friday he had not intended to attack the efforts of medical researchers and that perhaps Mr. MacEachen had misunderstood his earlier statement.

Inmate Dies Silently

TORONTO (CP)—Police said two prisoners in adjoining cells of a police station watched early Friday while a third hanged himself from the top bar of his cell.

Dead is Denzel Jackson, 45, no fixed address, who was arrested on a charge of being unlawfully in a dwelling house.

Police said Jackson was placed in his cell at the Downtown police station at 4:25 a.m. and 15 minutes later was found hanged with his shirt tied around his neck.

FIFTH

It was the fifth death by hanging in Toronto police cells this year.

Police said neither man in neighboring cells called for help, although they said later that Jackson had first asked them for a belt with which to hang himself. They said they thought he was kidding.

One prisoner quoted the other as saying "It's his life" when he remarked that Jackson seemed to be going through with his threat.

Ex-Principal Honors Leadership

Former principal of Central Junior High School, Arthur Hunkin presented the Hunkin leadership award to student Linda Baker at the school's annual sports and service award ceremonies Friday morning.

Other presentations were: citizenship award to Janetis Hammer, who shared the top girl athlete award with Vicki Hammond; Peter Mason, top boy athlete award; Neil Blackstock, band award; The Foxglove Shield was won by Ted Ma for being the outstanding patrol boy.

Special service awards went to Shelagh Fabey, Heather Gibney, Lyn Prichard and Lloyd Miskiman.

Lawyers Vote
NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—B.C. lawyers Thursday elected New Westminster lawyer C. D. McQuarrie president of the B.C. Law Society. He succeeds L. DeMoulin of Vancouver.

Inquest Jury's Finding: Swim Areas Require Inhalator 'Hot Lines'

By BOB PETHICK

Recognized swimming areas should be provided with direct communication to inhalator squads, a coroner's jury recommended Friday night. The jury was inquiring into the death of Minder Singh, 32, 1241 Acton, who died in St. Joseph's Hospital at 8 p.m. Tuesday two hours after being found floating face down in Beaver Lake. In an unusual step at an inquest, coroner Edmond Jorje de St. Jorre praised Gary Blondin, 24, of 708 Suffolk, who organized a systematic search of the water and when he found the boy he immediately began mouth to mouth respiration. "I commend him for he has done," said Mr. St. Jorre. "In using his skill and talent, Mr. Blondin acted in a commendable way," he told the jury. "I commend you on behalf of the community," he said to Mr. Blondin, who is a qualified lifeguard instructor. The jury attached no blame to anyone and brought in a verdict of accidental death. The jury added to the rider lifeguards should be in attendance on public beaches according to the weather and not between fixed dates as at present. Minder, his brother Kuldeep, 14, and three other wards of the Family and Children's Service went to the beach for an outing under the care of social worker William Lawson. Mr. Lawson told the jury three of the boys could swim but Minder and his brother could not. He warned Minder and Kuldeep and the other boys to stay on the shore side of a marker in the lake. The water here, he said, was up to Minder's waist. He said the younger Singh seemed to be enjoying himself and stayed where he had been told but Kuldeep consistently disobeyed Mr. Lawson's instructions and was called in for his disobedience. Mr. Lawson said he had been watching two of his boys playing at one end of the beach and when he looked around again Minder had disappeared. "How long would you say you had your eyes off him?" asked Mr. St. Jorre. "About two minutes," replied Mr. Lawson. He added that he couldn't see how the youngster could go under in shallow water while he was being watched. ENERGETIC He described Minder as energetic and mischievous. "About average for a boy of that age?" asked Mr. St. Jorre. "More than average," answered Mr. Lawson. "It was because of this I was particularly watching him." He told the court that after a while he had the feeling that Minder had control in the water and showed no signs of being disobedient. At the scene, Mr. Blondin and Const. Stanley Krastel both said they were unable to obtain any pulse and there was no respiration. Dr. Charles Ennals, who supervised the resuscitation, said respirators had been used on the boy and he had been given heart stimulation drugs in the effort to revive him. "After an hour and a half of vigorous effort I pronounced the lad dead," he said.

Report Monday On Gas Case

An engineering report, ordered after 30 children were sickened recently by escaping chlorine gas at the Crystal Garden, will be presented Monday at a meeting of city council's recreation committee. City Manager Dennis Young said Friday the report has been received at City Hall. He said he will study it this weekend in preparation for Monday's meeting. The report was prepared by consultants Frederick Gardiner and Allan Ker. It will probably recommend technical arrangements to prevent a recurrence of the incident.

Mr. Lawson said he had been watching two of his boys playing at one end of the beach and when he looked around again Minder had disappeared. "How long would you say you had your eyes off him?" asked Mr. St. Jorre. "About two minutes," replied Mr. Lawson. He added that he couldn't see how the youngster could go under in shallow water while he was being watched. ENERGETIC He described Minder as energetic and mischievous. Warmth All Weekend

Friday was one of the hotter days this summer and the indications are for more of the same this weekend. The high at the weather office at Gonzales Hill was 68 degrees but it was 76 degrees at the Victoria International Airport at 3 p.m. The forecast for the weekend is warm and sunny with a bit of cloud Sunday.

Drug Charge

Youth Sent To Jail

Martin Baker, 17, of 99 Gorge Road, found guilty Thursday on a charge of possession of marijuana was sentenced Friday to serve six months definite and six months indefinite in the young offenders institute. Defence counsel Derrin O'Brien-Flood asked that Baker be given a suspended sentence. In passing sentence Mr. Justice George Gregory said he had taken into account the age of the offender, but added "I must also deter others."

STAY ANNOUNCED

An assize jury was out two hours Thursday before finding the youth guilty.

After the verdict was handed down Crown counsel Rodney Taylor announced the Crown would stay proceedings on the trafficking part of the indictment.

Baker was one of five arrested by Saanich police last April 20 near an abandoned house in the Ten Mile Point area.

Tennis Classes

The closing date for registrations for the city's tennis instruction program at Beacon Hill Park has been extended to Wednesday. The closing day was originally Friday.

Summer All Over

Large clematis blossoms catch attention of eight-year-old Carolyn Cooper, 1918 Carnarvon, as scintillating colors and fragrance of summer are found in almost every corner of Victoria. This five-year-old clematis belongs to Carolyn's neighbor, George Slater, 1970 Carnarvon.—(Robin Clarke)

Government Spending Lashed

Government spending, dirty streets, vandalism and a plan to give haven in Canada to Arab refugees all came under the Greater Victoria Chamber of Commerce lash Friday. "We must make ourselves heard on the spending issue," said Courtney Haddock, president to the assembled directors. "If you don't say something it is just 'Ho Hum' and nothing is done. It's the squeaking wheel which gets the grease, you know." George Farmer wondered if the many letters sent on issues of this kind were even read by the people concerned.

Directors agreed to each send a letter of protest which will be drafted for them.

Are Victoria people the dirtiest in the world? George Farmer wondered. After every celebration or occasion they leave litter all over the place. They don't look for containers or store their refuse until they find a place to dispose of it; they just drop it on the street.

grants was opposed by the chamber, and the federal government will be so informed.

The chamber president regretted the fact that the tourist industry in the area was apparently not willing to at least try out a request proposal to impose a four per cent room tax to raise money for promotion.

"It would be so painless," he said, speaking on the subject. "Four per cent on an $8 room is 32 cents. All they would have to do is charge $3.50 instead of $8 for a week."

Longshoreman Hurt In Fall on Lumber

A 30-year-old longshoreman is in satisfactory condition in Royal Jubilee Hospital after slipping while moving lumber aboard a freighter at Ogden Point Friday morning.

Ronald McDonald, 154 Pine, slipped on the deck of the Ariel and fell onto other lumber. The extent of his injuries was not known.

Divers Hit Bottom In Sewage Study

Working at a depth of 120 feet as far as 1,500 feet off Clover Point, divers are making bottom studies as the first step in a $1,000,000 Victoria sewer program which may be started this summer.

William Jorgensen, assistant city engineer, said Friday the big program will see the Clover Point outfall taken out from its present location 90 feet from the shoreline and at the surface of the water, to 1,500 feet offshore and an estimated depth of 120 feet.

In addition miles of trunkline which drain a 2,400-acre area of the city, will be renewed or replaced in a project which, he hopes, will get started this summer or at least this year.

The enterprise comes under the city's capital budget program although it has been linked to a large extent with the massive sewerage survey completed this year for the capital district region, which envisages a multi-million dollar complex of new and improved trunkline sewers for most of Saanich Peninsula.

Most dramatic part of the city's program is by the extension of the Clover Point outfall, the largest of three which drain the metropolitan area and the only one which is wholly the city's responsibility. The current study there is being carried out by Triton Engineering Company of Vancouver.

At the moment raw sewage is spilled on the top of the sea at a point 90 feet from the tip of the point and the rolled waters and polluted shores have long been a source of unhappiness to Victorians.

Extension of the outfall presents serious engineering problems, Mr. Jorgensen said, and it is to solve these that the underwater studies are being made. They include detailed bottom testing, current studies and studies on the diffusion of sewage.

In order to study diffusion, small pipes have been rigged from the main outfall and in them sewage is pumped out to be discharged at points 800 feet and 1,500 feet from the shore. The diffusion is watched and charted by divers. Extension of the outfall pipe and tying it to the bottom of the sea may present special problems, Mr. Jorgensen said Friday. The pipeline will have to be bedded and this may necessitate blasting, particularly near the shoreline. The Clover Point outfall, the original in the area, once drained all Victoria when the northern boundary was Kings Road. It now drains a large area of the city from Finlayson on the north to the city's eastern perimeter.

There are two other outfalls, one at Macaulay Point which drains the northwestern part of the city and part of Saanich and another at Bold Point which serves northeastern Victoria, most of Oak Bay and part of Saanich. The capital region sewerage survey envisages improvement of all three outfalls.

A proposal to give refuge to displaced Arabs as immigrants was opposed by the chamber, and the federal government will be so informed.

The chamber president regretted the fact that the tourist industry in the area was apparently not willing to at least try out a request proposal to impose a four per

THE DAILY BRITISH COLONIST

The Weekly Colonist, ready for mailing, containing the latest in local and other news, may be obtained today at the bookstores and at the office of publication.

Yesterday morning some thief whipped into the barroom of the Boomerang Inn while "mice host" was taking breakfast and carried off the till. Fortunately the heavy "take" of the day previous had been removed and the scamp only got for his pains a few dimes and kikas. Mr. Griffin requests us to say that if the fellow will return the latter, he may keep the former and enjoy not only the metallic fruits of his theft, but Ben's blessing into the bargain.

If the ratepayers of the Yates Street ward value their interests rightly, they will unanimously agree upon the return of Mr. John Banks as their representative in the city council. Banks is a pioneer resident, and is eminently fitted to go into council.

Esquimalt Celebrates Today

Buccaneer (Pow!) Days (Biff!) Here

By NANCY BROWN

So you were sleeping peacefully, when a loud noise from a fire truck and sound truck brought you awake, thinking of a national emergency?

A quick look at the headlines, and a listen to the radio, didn't enlighten you?

Well here's the reason — It's Esquimalt's Buccaneer Days, and the pirates have arrived.

The alternative to laying charges under the anti-noise bylaw will be to join in the festivities which will start with a pancake breakfast at 7 a.m. at the shopping plaza.

Highlight of the weekend will be the Buccaneer Day parade which will leave Dominion and Esquimalt Roads at 10:30 a.m. Rides and concessions are available for the youngsters at the Sports Centre. Afternoon sports events will

Square Dance Party For Golden Wedding

A gala square dance party was held in St. Martin's-in-the-Fields Church in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Nevard, 1883 Cochrane Street, who recently celebrated their golden wedding anniversary.

Dr. and Mrs. Gordon (Rita) Wallis, the couple's son-in-law and daughter, hosted the party in conjunction with the Broken Spokes Square Dance Club. Mr. and Mrs. Nevard, who have been square dancing for the past 19 years, are charter members of the Broken Spokes.

Prior to joining in the evening's fun, the couple stood under an arch decorated in white and gold to receive their 70 guests. Mr. Russell Ard, original caller for the club, toasted the couple. Another charter member, Mr. Ken Fidler, on behalf of the club, presented a small gold covered chest filled with money to Mr. and Mrs. Nevard.

In addition to square dancing, the Nevards are active members of a bowling club, play bridge, and Mr. Nevard belongs to the Gordon Head Garden Club. They were married in Helena, Mont., June 12, 1917, moving to Victoria a year later. Mr. Nevard was born in Chilliwack, B.C., and his wife was

Women Can Help World By Steady, Modest Work

By LILLIAN NEWBERRY
GUELPH, Ont. (CP) — By "steady, modest work" women can help their communities, the nation and the world, says Mrs. George Clarke, elected this week as president of the Federated Women's Institutes of Canada.

Mrs. Clarke, wife of the Speaker of the Newfoundland legislature, said in an interview after her election Thursday: "It's the little things they do. They are coming out now to take part in national and international affairs." She said she obtained the permission of her husband and two sons in Springdale, Nfld., before standing for election as the successor to Mrs. J. Philip Matheson of Oyster Bed Bridge, P.E.I.

The presidency will be a full-time job, with few opportunities for her hobbies of embroidery and gardening. "I'll have to stop thinking provincially and start thinking nationally," she said. "I'll learn as I go along."

Mrs. Clarke will head the FWIC with its 65,000 members in 3,300 Canadian branches for three years. She has no pet projects in mind but intends to continue association projects in citizenship, home economics, agriculture and UN and international exchanges. The work in the north, where there now are branches in the Yukon and Northwest Territories, also must be continued, she said.

The FWIC, founded in 1897 to help the farm woman but steadily assuming an urban character as farm life changes, must be made attractive to younger women, Mrs. Clarke said.

"Young people are terrific, and they have a greater opportunity than our generation had."

Mrs. J. P. Matheson of Oyster Bed Bridge, P.E.I., Friday was named a life member of the Federated Women's Institutes of Canada. She is the immediate past president.

As the national convention of the organization ended, delegates elected Mrs. John Ulrich of Clavel, Sask., an additional member of the executive named earlier.

Mrs. Letty Willis was installed in her ninth consecutive term as secretary. District deputy supreme honored royal lady, Doris Carnegie of Campbell River was installing officer; past honored royal lady, June McGirr was her assistant. Mrs. Doris Tappay, who is retiring after four years as treasurer, acted as secretary pro tem.

Chic and Expensive

Dior Stresses Simplicity for Fall
By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
NEW YORK (AP) — A half-dozen Mia Farrow-like mannequins raced breathlessly through the crowded Christian Dior showroom here as if they feared the styles might change before they reached the end of the collection opening.

It was not likely. Though this fashion house has dealt some low blows in the past to family budgets by making women's wardrobes obsolescent overnight, that was not designer Gaston Berthelot's game this week.

The more than 200 style status symbols his mannequins wore were neither erotic nor erratic, neither mod nor mad, not cute but chic, and as ever, very, very expensive.

The rules of Dior dress seemed to be:
1. Hemlines three inches above the knees.
2. Simplicity and restraint in

Young-Sands Grandmother's Locket For 'Something Old'

An heirloom gold locket which had belonged to her great-great grandmother fulfilled the "something old" tradition for Frances Vivian Sands when she became the bride of FO Richard James Young, RCAF, in a recent wedding ceremony at St. John's Anglican Church.

Canon Graham Baker heard the marriage vows for the daughter of Lt.-Cmdr. Percy J. Sands, RCN (Ret'd) and Mrs. Sands, 1550 McRae Avenue, and the son of Mr. Eric Bernard Young, Sherwood Park, Alta., and the late Mrs. Young.

Colorful arrangement of spring flowers decorated the church for the evening ceremony. Organist Mr. Donald Woodworth played selections of Henry Purcell's and during signing of the register the choir boys sang Ave Maria and Lord, We Do Put Our Trust in Thee.

Given in marriage by her father the petite, fair-haired bride was in a floor-length gown of white peau de chamois in princess A-line style. Wide border of Venetian lace trimmed the boat neckline and extended down the front of the gown to hemline. Matching lace edged the bolero style bodice which fell into a full train in back. A cathedral veil of silk illusion net cascaded from a headpiece of fresh white roses and stephanotis. The bride carried a small bouquet of the same flowers on a white prayer book.

Blue, pink and yellow shades combined in a screen-printed nylon facoonne over pale blue silk formed the street-length gown worn by bridesmatron, Mrs. Murray McChang, and bridesmaids, the Misses Lynne Connell and Heather Ann Young, groom's sister. Miss Lorna Taylor, flower girl, was in a matching floor-length gown and carried a basket of yellow roses and blue feathered carnations and the senior attendants carried bouquets of the same flowers. They all wore yellow roses and blue carnations in their hair.

Mr. Duane Sutherland was best man. Ushering guests to pews marked with white carnations and ribbon, were Sub-Lt.

A Kelly Borrowman, RCN, and Mr. Donald Sands, bride's brother.

Mr. Ralph Freethy proposed the toast to the bride at the reception which followed in the Wardroom of Canadian Armed Forces Base. Centring the head table was a wedding cake made by Mr. E. W. Merritt.

For travelling on their honeymoon up-Island the new Mrs. Young wore a dress and coat ensemble in blue and pink floral nylon organza with bone accessories. The newlyweds will make their home in Winnipeg, Man.

Among the out-of-town guests were the groom's father and stepmother, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Young, his grandmother, Mrs. M. S. Young, and brothers and sisters, Ronald, Brent, Heather Ann and Bonnie Young, and his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Young, all of Sherwood Park, Alta. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ken Boyd, Calgary; Mrs. L. Reuhlen, Lt.-Cmdr. K. R. Dauphinee, Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Woods, Nanaimo.

ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: I am a teen-ager who is sick and tired of my parents. What I need is less criticism and more sympathy. My grades aren't so hot because I am a nervous wreck from getting yelled at all the time.

All I hear from morning till night is, "Take a bath. Stop smoking. Get rid of that beard. Get off the phone. Hang up your clothes. Stand up straight. Get a haircut. Don't be so mouthy. Apply yourself!"

Any advice? — WISH THEY'D GET OFF MY BACK
Dear Wish: Yes, I have some advice. Take a bath. Stop smoking. Get rid of that beard. Get off the phone. Hang up your clothes. Stand up straight. Get a haircut. Don't be mouthy. Apply yourself.

Dear Ann Landers: Our son who is 19 has been going with a girl for two years. She is now 18. Last summer the girl had a baby which she put up for adoption. During all this trouble the girl stayed in the city, (the baby was born in a local hospital) and she and our son continued to see each other and date as if everything was normal.

Now our son and his girl are planning a white wedding with all the trimmings, followed by a lavish reception. The talk has barely died down and my husband and I are sick to think it will start all over wrong and then I'm over my mad. I feel a lot better after I get my gripe off my chest, and so does everyone else.

My mother treated my dad the same way Mary treats me and he never found a solution. Can you help me? — WANT A GOOD MARRIAGE
Dear Want: You are not the one who needs help. It's Mary. The best way to dissipate hostile feelings is by talking out the problem. Boiling in silence and keeping anger bottled up does nothing but build an ulcer.

Mary should begin promptly to ventilate her feelings for her sake, if not for yours.

Mr. and Mrs. Lionel H. Edwards, 1941 Taylor Street, announce the forthcoming marriage of their only daughter, Evelyn Leah Edwards to Mr. Kim Maxwell Hiscok, only son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Hiscok, 1331 Arm Street. The wedding will take place on July 1 in St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, with Canon Hywel Jones officiating. — (Don Ryan Photo)

Girls Take Large Dogs On Cross Country Trip

MONTREAL (CP) — The perils of hitchhiking across a continent can be considerable for two young, attractive girls, but they are lessened somewhat when the girls are accompanied by four large German shepherd dogs.

This was the experience of Patricia Broadus, 19, and Kathy Quinn, 24, both of Altadena, Calif., who arrived in Montreal earlier this week after a 7,000-mile roundabout journey.

The girls, accompanied by their dogs, headed directly for Expo 67. The fair had closed for the day but Expo employees found temporary lodgings for them in a conference room at the fair's administration building. The dogs spent the night on the grass outside.

Both girls were employed at a grooming salon for dogs in California before they started their trip. The owner of the salon gave them the dogs for the journey.

The six of them travelled by car, truck and freight train, getting help along the way from policemen, local newspaper and city authorities among others.

"On no occasion did we receive a single improper proposal... thanks, perhaps, to our dogs," the girls said Wednesday.

The four dogs, Jony, Dema, Chief and Sargeant, had been trained in police work.

While the girls appreciated the company and protection offered by the dogs they found it was a great strain on their shaky finances to feed them the required dozen pounds of meat a day.

"Several times we found ourselves without a cent in our purses," they said. "But we always found someone to help us. One day a priest gave us $50. Later the wife of a policeman gave us $25."

They now have just one problem: Dogs are not allowed on the Expo site.

Yellow and White Theme of Wedding

A gown of nylon organza over tulle was worn by Shirley Ann Dryer when she became the Bride of Edwin James Freeman. A sweetheart neckline enhanced the delicate lace of the bodice, and a detachable train of nylon and lace extended from the shoulders. The elbow-length sleeves of the gown ended in lily points. The bride's chapel-length veil misted from a headpiece fashioned of pearls, and she carried a bouquet of white carnations and yellow sweetheart roses.

Arrangements of yellow gladiolus and white carnations and stocks decorated St. Alban's Anglican Church when Rev. F. W. Hayes conducted the ceremony which united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Dryer, 1441 Myrtle Street, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Freeman, 2653 Selwyn Road.

Soloist Mrs. Jean Wilson, accompanied by organist W. Hamilton, sang "The Lord's Prayer" during the service.

Maid of honor Miss Mary Cross and bridesmaids, the Misses Janet Hollier and Jackie Alexander, were dressed alike in gowns of pale yellow crepe, with matching headpieces. They carried crescent bouquets of white carnations.

Little Rose Marie Margish, niece of the bride, wore a frock in turquoise edged with white lace. Her headpiece was fashioned of white fabric flowers and lace, and she carried a basket of white and yellow daisies.

"Doug Longhurst was best man and ushering the guests were Bob Perry and Dick Gibbons, the bride's cousin.

At a reception following in the church hall, a three-tier wedding cake, surrounded with rose garlands and tulle and flanked by candelabras, centred the head table. Ken Dickinson, Calgary, proposed the toast to the bride's happiness.

For travelling, the new Mrs. Freeman chose a suit in turquoise shades, topped with a mink stole. White accessories and a corsage of yellow roses completed the outfit.

The newlyweds will make their home at 510 Leckfield Road.

"Mommy, Susy ate some pills."

It can't happen to you. It can happen to someone in the newspapers, someone on TV. It can even happen to the family right across the street. But to you? Never.

Last year, in B.C. alone, it happened to over two thousand parents who said it couldn't happen to them.

Somehow their children were accidentally poisoned.

Medicines are supposed to save lives, not take them. That's why the prescriptions you receive from your Cunningham dispensaries come in special safety vials.

They're childproof.

As a matter of fact, unless you're an adult and know the combination, you can't open one either. But it's quick and simple once you know how. All it takes is some firm palm pressure on the lid, and a twist to the left. It's easy for you, but not for your child. So dangerous drugs stay locked inside. Out of harm's way.

But remember. Most accidental poisonings still occur not because the child was able to open a poison container but because it was left within his reach in the first place. Please. Store your drugs, cleaning fluids and other household chemicals where your children can't get their hands on them. And just in case, jot down the number of the Poison Control Centre near you: in Vancouver it's 876-3211, in Victoria 386-3131.

You can take the first step towards preventing an accidental poisoning in your home right here and now. Say this out loud to yourself:

"It can happen to me."

Our safety vials will save lives, but we need your help! Do it for us. Because we want your children to live. Because we care.

Old City of Jerusalem Worth Millions in Revenue

Israelis Eager for Tourist Shekels

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israelis are awaiting with open arms to welcome religious pilgrims with guidebook in hand and foreign money in their pockets.

The Israelis took almost all of the Christian holy sites from Jordan in the war last week. The Old City of Jerusalem and Bethlehem were their biggest prizes. Israeli officials expect tourist revenue to increase at least $20,000,000 a year as a result.

"Jerusalem should be like Rome," said one banker. "We have Christian, Moslem and Jewish sites."

Pinchas E. Lapide, a Jerusalem city official says: "We'll use the holy sites to attract meetings in all religious groups, and that most emphatically means even Moslems if they'll come."

Christians outnumbered Jewish tourists to Israel last year for the first time since independence.

This is expected to be a bumper year for Jewish tourists visiting relatives celebrating victory and praying at the wall of Solomon's Second Temple—which Christians know as the Wailing Wall—Judaism's holiest shrine which the Jordanians had denied the Israelis since 1948.

In the long run, the number of Jewish tourists is expected to decline since many have been older Jews who came for a single visit to see Eretz Yisrael—the land of Israel. The Israelis know they must concentrate on attracting Christians.

Thousands of years of erosion by wind and water created these odd rock formations, to be found in profusion on island of Gotland in Baltic Sea.

STAN DELAPLANE Tips You Off

Kauai, Hawaii — Banana pancakes and coconut syrup this warm Hawaiian morning beside blue Waikua Bay. Barefoot and in shorts — the trade wind blows through the house like a touch of silk.

Captain James Cook sailed into this bay on the discovery voyage of 1778.

I don't imagine the island of Kauai has changed much. Sand beaches washed by cream surf. The tall coco palms bending into the wind. The grey-green peaks hung with spun-sugar clouds. The occasional burst of tropical rain, and the following sun making instant diamonds on broad, green banana leaves.

"If we get a place to do our own cooking, what would be the cost of living?"

Just about the same as at home. Most things are brought in by ship—and that adds to the cost. We bought cube sugar yesterday—22 cents more for a box than we pay at home.

On the plus side, you need little clothing. I pack three pairs of khaki shorts. Two pairs of slacks. Five short-sleeved shirts. One pair of sandals. I have a tropic weight suit and shoes for the occasional evening in Honolulu. But only a few places there require tie and jacket at night.

The bargains are in local fish and fruit and imported New Zealand lamb. Small Japanese and Chinese restaurants are inexpensive and good. Waikiki at Honolulu is the highest-priced area — equal to top mainland prices. But you could get on one of these outer islands and shop around and do very well.

"We're not exactly planning Hawaii on a shoestring, but we'd like to make every dollar mean something."

"Would we save money by renting a house? How do you go about it? Isn't there an exchange club where you exchange houses?"

You save plenty of money by renting a house and staying in one place. Moving around costs a lot. You can get hotel rooms at modest prices. But the killer is three restaurant meals a day.

It is very difficult to find houses for short-term rentals. Worse than ever this year. The Vacation Exchange Club is always pessimistic on chances in Hawaii—too much demand.

What you can do is get a small hotel or apartment with a kitchenette. (Hawaii Visitors Bureau, Honolulu, has lists.) They aren't all bargains. But just lunch and breakfast at home helps a lot.

"Where would you suggest for two single girls going to Hawaii?"

Forget everything I said and stay at Waikiki. That's where the single bird-watchers are. I see girls landing here. And by cocktail and dinner time, they're plain birds. (This girl underlines "single" and that's the way I read the message.)

Get on the beach and stay on the beach. It's loaded with single men on vacation. And everybody talks to everybody in the water (warm as mother love). For openers: "Is there any coral or rocks here?" Honolulu whitewild!

In 1965 and 1966 an average of 300,000 tourists a year came to Israel and left $60,000,000 in foreign currency. But prices have climbed far above those of Spain and other sun spots. While every other major Mediterranean tourist spot was bringing in more tourists, the tourism figure in Israel was down seven per cent this year before the war crisis.

The reasons are numerous. They include insistence on kosher food and dietary laws in many hotels—you can't get cream in your coffee or butter on your beans if you've had meat with the meal. But the major reason is a lack of cheap charter flights.

El Al, the Israeli airline, has only seven planes, not enough to handle charters. If Israel allowed other lines to fly in charters, El Al would show a loss.

Gotland Fascinating Place Stone Age Island

By GORDON LEVING

VISBY, Isle Of Gotland (ONS)—Weird cliff formations and caves fashioned by primordial waves intrigue visitors to this Stone Age island in the middle of the Baltic Sea.

Gotland is said to have been created more than 400,000,000 years ago when the shells of primitive sea animals formed a giant reef on the bottom of the sea. After the last Ice Age, some 12,000 years ago, the reef rose to the surface, and with it came many fossilized remains.

In the 13th century, a time when Gotland led Europe in international trade and shipping, there were more than 100 fine stone churches in the little island villages and in the town of Visby.

The remarkable thing is that 84 of these have stayed intact over the centuries. There are Romanesque churches, Gothic churches, and churches with clearly Byzantine lines.

The undulating countryside of Gotland, away from Visby, is filled with prehistoric stone settings, rune stones and rock carvings, medieval road-side crosses, and curious long-disused windmills.

Gotland, with its hill formations of fossils and its many ruins from the glacial period, attracts many geologists. Botanists also come to study the flora, including the wild orchids.

Gotland today has burial sites of ancient chieftains and picture-writings in stone dating from the early Iron Age. Carvings and paintings show ships, horsemen, battles and sacrificial offerings.

The walled medieval city of Visby is 35 minutes by plane from Stockholm. The island has 54,000 inhabitants.

Burly Vikings from Gotland explored the rivers of Russia, and journeyed to Constantinople and to the court of the caliph of Baghdad. Merchants brought back treasure of Roman gold and Arabic silver, burying it in the ground at times of unrest.

In the museum in Visby you can see much of this loot, found by archaeologists.

Rather staid architecturally, Visby, an old fortress town, has the best-preserved city wall in northern Europe. The biggest remains are around Visborg castle.

Visby became a free harbor in the 12th century for overseas merchants who set up trading agencies here and built churches.

Virginia Alive Despite Burial

Olivier

PARIS (LAT) — French and American art dealers, deeply concerned at widespread and increasing traffic in fake masterpieces, moved jointly here Friday to establish safeguards and policing standards to protect the public.

Acting jointly were the Art Dealers Association of America and the Comité Professionnel des Galeries d'art de France. After a week-long discussion of the problem, the two associations announced at a press conference that the French dealers will go a long way toward accepting American verification practices.

PROSECUTION

At the same time, they issued a joint appeal to prospective art buyers to deal with established dealers only.

In an important action to carry the new safeguards agreement into operation, the French dealers decided for the first time in French art history to initiate a prosecution. It will be against what they consider forged works by Andre Derain being shown at a private Paris gallery.

Until now, the French legal position has been that it is up to the heirs of an artist to protect his reputation and works and it is not a matter for government action or expertise.

SISSETON, S.D. — Mrs. Virginia Kedday Thompson of Chicago would like to have all her friends know that she is alive and well.

Relatives and friends thought they had buried Mrs. Thompson, 48, during a funeral here May 3. But Mrs. Thompson, a former resident, claims she is not buried in Lake Traverse Presbyterian Church cemetery.

Authorities said a body identified as that of Mrs. Thompson was received in Sisseton early in May and was dutifully buried. Now they don't know who was buried.

LONDON — Sir Laurence Olivier, 60, is undergoing treatment for a form of cancer. Doctors say they are "very confident" of curing it. After the first treatment at a London hospital he ordered champagne.

The medical term for the type of cancer for which Olivier is being treated is neoplasm of the prostate gland.

LOS ANGELES — Actress Betty Hutton has obtained a divorce from her fourth husband jazz trumpeter Pete Candoli. She testified he was jealous of her professional career and said he was so cruel to her she became ill.

VANCOUVER — Jean Phillippe Lupien, 44, of Hull, Que., a senior vice-president of the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, was found guilty by an all-male County Court jury here of attempting to commit gross indecency. He was remanded to June 27 for sentencing.

VANCOUVER — July 11 has been set as the date for a preliminary hearing to a capital murder charge against David Mervin Towler, 27. He is charged in the May 17 shooting death of Mrs. Ng Cheng during a holdup at her grocery store.

LOS ANGELES — Spencer Tracy left his entire estate to his estranged wife, his two children and his brother, his will showed when it was filed for probate. The estate is believed to be more than $500,000, but an accounting is needed to get the exact amount.

LONDON — Michael Johns, 32, has won a divorce on the grounds that his wife Veronica had committed adultery with his father. Lt.-Ondr. Philip Johns.

CALTANISSETTA, Sicily — Mrs. Grazia Franco, 34, has given birth to her third set of triplets. She has been married nine years and now has nine children.

ROME — Rev. Antonio Corsi a bearded Capuchin friar, found guilty of cigarette smuggling two years ago, was convicted in another case involving an attempt to force a married woman-woman Laura Gillette, to elope with him.

VANCOUVER (CP) — Mrs. R. C. (Ellen) Harris, club-

TORONTO — Dr. Saul Cohen of the University of Toronto is to receive an award for medical research 11 years after doctors gave him one year to live. He will receive the award from the Canadian Society of Obstetrics and Gynecology.

WICHITA, Kan. — It's no crime in Wichita to call someone an SOB — at least a "silly SOB." Municipal judge David Arst made the ruling in finding Wichita attorney Jim Nelson innocent of a misdemeanor. Arst said the term "is so common and diversified as not to constitute a crime." Nelson had been charged with calling police Col. Joseph Klepper a "silly SOB" following an argument at the police station.

WASHINGTON — An FBI investigation is underway into alleged violation of the civil rights of supporters of Reles Lopez Tijerina, the leader of New Mexican Spanish Americans who claim vast amounts of government land as their own. The investigation centres on a national guard round-up of supporters of Tijerina in the New Mexico town of Tierra Amarilla last week.

LUXEMBOURG — James A. Roberts, 59, Canadian deputy secretary-general of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, is expected to be given another diplomatic or Canadian government post early next year.

Alberta Violinist Wins

VANCOUVER (CP) — Grand prize award in the Jeunesses Musicale National competition went Thursday to violinist Andrew Dawes, 28, of Midnapore, Alta. Second prize was a tie between cellists Dennis Brott, 16, of Montreal and Sharon McKinley, 24, of Vancouver. Mr. Dawes receives $5,000 and a recording contract. He will be playing in a concert at Expo in Montreal July 16, will give a concert tour for Jeunesses Musicales, and will have several engagements with the Canadian Broadcasting Corp.

Take a second vacation on your way home from Europe and see the Caribbean.

So you're going to take a vacation. You're going to race off to Europe. Race around Europe. And race home again.

Well, that's getting the change of scenery you need. But racing isn't relaxing. And by the time you've covered Europe, you may wish you had time for a second vacation. So why not take one?

Sail home from Europe through the Caribbean and Panama Canal aboard a giant P&O liner. And decompress a little. With friendly British service to aid the cause.

After a day at sea, you'll sleep like a baby. The sea air makes you feel fit again. And at peace with the world. Every P&O liner has at least 5 open decks. Acres of sunlit room for sports, swimming, strolling or catching up on your reading (the ship's library stocks over 4,000 books).

Of course, if you don't want to unwind, you don't have to. There are movies and dances and parties all over ship. And chatty shipmates from the four corners of the world.

Either way, you'll arrive home tanned and refreshed. Ready to get back into the swing of things.

The price? As little as $444 tourist class, $684 first. Which comes to less for a day than you would spend at a comparable European resort hotel. That doesn't take you anywhere.

Fireworks Caution Promised

OTTAWA (CP) — Trade Minister Winters said Friday every precaution will be taken to prevent a repetition of Friday's explosion of fireworks at Expo that injured one man.

Replying in the Commons to Gerard Loiselle (L—Montreal St. Ann), the trade minister said he did not think there was any danger for future visitors to the world's fair.

He said the fireworks were set off in an area "sufficiently protected so that there was no danger to the general public."

The Mock Orange

By M. V. CHESNUT

Every year I am becoming more and more filled with admiration for the Mock Orange, and especially for the double-flowered variety Virginal.

think it pays — at least with older specimens — to take out about one-third of the oldest stems right down to ground level every year.

The problem here — and with all lawn trees and shrubs — is to get plant food to the roots in sufficient quantities to do some good without injuring the surrounding grass with an overdose.

Pitzer College, a girls college in the group at Claremont, Calif., has an English teacher who is fighting a hopeless but honorable battle against the corruption and debasement of the language.

Brinkley means of course, that he hopes, you hope, we hope, the world hopes—that the situation will be resolved.

She is not against the colloquial; but she deploras corruptions which kill a word. Now that "hopefully" means what Brinkley and his listeners think it means, she points out its real meaning — for which there is no other word — is lost forever.

Topol Best 'Fiddler'

LONDON (NANA) — Jackie Gleason would like to star in the movie version of Fiddler on the Roof, but there is only one man who should play Tevye, the milk peddler—Topol, who starred in the West End stage version and is considered the best of the bunch by everyone who has seen all performances, including this reporter.

SYDNEY HARRIS Stresses...

Experience Often Useless

When a famous German general, long ago, heard one of his staff officers venture the sententious remark that "Experience is the best teacher," the general snorted: "Nonsense — my mule has been through 10 campaigns with me, but he knows no more now than he did before the first one!"

perfect." In most cases, practice merely confirms us in our errors, and the longer we do something the wrong way — that is, without enlightenment and instruction — the more fixed we become in our folly.

older people know — through painful examination of their own lives — that this is not usually the case. Many people go from one bad experience to another, from one kind of mistake to a different kind, learning perhaps to avoid the kind they made in the past, but having no rational guideline to prevent them from making other, and more disastrous, mistakes in the future.

Ceremony of Flags Thrills Crowd

By ARNOLD OLSON NANAIMO—The Ceremony of the Flags was the ceremony of the year for about 2,000 people Friday night.

The Navy men presented the ceremony in honor of the Canadian flag, with those of the provinces and territories included. The reds, blues, yellows and greens caught the eye and only the snappy movements of the 45-man team detracted from them.

After the opening set of drilling, the flags were trooped to a 21-gun salute, which filled Caledonia Park with a blue haze. O Canada and God Save the Queen were played while the audience, which crowded the bleachers and overflowed onto the grounds, stood and thrilled in the music that only a military band can play.

The gunnery crew were like statues. At the back of the twin guns all eyes turned, but the men were back in position. White caps all in line, and marching stiffly, they marched past the disc white Mayor Pete Marfoe, dignitaries and officers took the "eyes right".

The two guns were pulled by two crews, but the climax of their marching was such that at times it seemed there was only one gun. Ceremonial officer was Lieut. J. R. Rafter and bandmaster was Lieut. P. A. Metcalf.

The ceremony will be performed today in Alberni's Athletic Park at 6:30 p.m. The schedule is: Campbell River, Monday, Tyee Plaza, 7:30 p.m.; Courtenay, Tuesday, Lewis Park, 7:30 p.m., and Victoria, Friday, Beacon Hill Park's southwest soccer pitch, at 8:30 p.m.

Alderman Angry

A Victoria alderman who says that ugly commercial development has ruined Vancouver Island's scenic arterial road, will take his protest to the Union of B.C. Municipalities.

Chairman of city council parks committee, Ald. Robert Baird commented recently that lumber and timber yards, car wreckers and other commercial enterprises have completely spoiled what was once one of the greatest scenic roads on the island.

Something should be done, he said, and he proposed to take action. "Since then I have been in touch with the Association of Vancouver Island Chambers of Commerce and I believe I will be able to enlist their support," Ald. Baird said Friday.

He now intends to seek permission from the city council to take a resolution to the UBCM convention in Prince George in September asking for provincial government control.

The UBCM will be asked to point out that such commercial encroachment is destroying the beauty of many of the roads in British Columbia and that a system of minimum standards is absolutely necessary before it is too late.

Ore Treatment Not Allowed

Western Mines Ltd. will not use its milling facilities in Strathcona Park to treat ore from other mines. R. J. Hager, company vice-president, said Friday.

Mr. Hager was referring to a recent statement by Crown Silver Mines Ltd., which has been granted mining rights on 3,000 acres of Strathcona Park. The company said it hoped to make use of Western Mines milling facilities for treatment of ore on a contract basis.

Students Thanked

DUNCAN — Community leaders and police thanked 95 girls and boys of two elementary schools' safety patrols when they received certificates at a brief ceremony at Duncan Elementary School on Friday.

Man Pleads Guilty To Stabbing

A 60-year-old man stabbed a 41-year-old man during a fight in front of a downtown hotel Thursday afternoon and explained to police he did it because "you can't take chances with these young fellows."

Leonard Leslie Brant, 710 Cormorant, pleaded guilty in central magistrate's court Friday to assault causing bodily harm and wilfully causing damage over the value of $50.

Det. Lyle Somers said that David Lammigan, 41, was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital Thursday suffering a knife wound in his left side, below the rib cage, and a superficial wound on his arm. His condition was reported as good.

Det. Somers said he questioned Brant Friday morning and Brant admitted being involved in the fight on Johnson and using a knife.

He said the knife, a pocket model with an inch blade, was used for pruning and was kept sharp.

"You can't take chances with these young fellows," Brant told Det. Somers. "I don't want to die that way."

Det. Somers said Brant asked him whether Lammigan had died and when told he had not, replied: "That's good. I'm guilty."

Three Loud Thumps

Constable Michael Mason said that he was on foot patrol Friday night on Broad Street and heard three loud thumps.

He found Brant standing beside a 1967 model car in the Century Inn parking lot which had the window on the passenger's side smashed.

A large piece of concrete wrapped in a sports coat was lying on the ground beside the car, Constable Mason said. Three two-way radios were lying on the front seat of the car and Brant was intoxicated. Brant was remanded to June 23 for a pre-sentence report.

Martin Dixon, 21, of CFB Esquimalt was sentenced to six months in jail for assaulting a 73-year-old Esquimalt woman, causing her bodily harm.

Dixon had pleaded guilty to the offence last week when court was told that Dixon had followed the woman home after she had smiled at him. He attacked her in her home and tore her dress and underclothing.

Vicious Assault

Magistrate William Ostler rejected a suggestion that Dixon be placed on probation and said: "It was a vicious assault of a 73-year-old woman in the most reprehensible circumstances."

The magistrate told Dixon he could have been charged with indecent assault.

"It was an outrageous and indefensible act."

William Addison, 1140 Government, pleaded guilty to possession of stolen property worth less than $50 and was remanded to June 23 for pre-sentence and psychiatric reports.

Constable Ronald Stewart said Addison took a pair of women's shoes from a display at Lewis Shoe Store, 731 Fort, June 8. The shoes were valued at $12.50.

was found guilty of impaired driving.

He was stopped on Douglas Street June 6 after police noticed his car speeding and weaving.

Grant MacArthur, 1655 Chambers, was fined $300 and had his licence suspended when he was found guilty of impaired driving. Court was told MacArthur had driven through a stop sign and on the wrong side of the street in the Burnside area June 8.

Donald Amstutz, HMCS Saskatchewan, was fined $150 and had his licence suspended when he was found guilty of failing to remain at the scene of an accident.

Fined in traffic court for careless driving: Marjorie Davies, 2576 Estevan, $40; Margaret Perry, 2623 Fifth, $40.

'Normal Crush'

Rush for Schools Causes Backlog

Dr. Neil Perry, deputy minister of education, Friday blamed any current delay in school construction approval on the normal summer crush of local school boards rushing to get plans approved in time for September enrolment.

He denied an earlier report that delays have a connection with a three-week absence by Education Minister Peterson, who as provincial labor minister is attending a labor conference in Geneva.

He also denied that the time lag has been caused by a shortage of money.

In fact, he said, it was the result of a sudden influx of money represented by the government's recent sale of $50,000,000 of school construction bonds.

"Every year at this time we receive a great many applications from school boards for approval of construction programs they are trying to rush for the fall," he said.

"This typical crush results in the department falling behind somewhat in processing the applications and it's slightly more than normal this year because of large amount of funds obtained to meet a backlog (created by last winter's construction freeze)."

"But we're catching up now and we're hoping to get most of the accumulation of applications for approval cleared up by June 28."

The delays were revealed at a meeting of the four capital region school boards Thursday night which was told by Sooke school board chairman John Barntan that the department has not approved plans for a $130,000 addition to Sangster Elementary School.

Branch Line Erasures Parley Topic

OTTAWA (CP)—A conference of all parties interested in applications for the abandonment of railway branch lines has been called for Aug. 1 in Ottawa, the board of transport commissioners has disclosed.

Main interest centres on railway efforts to shut down 46 Prairie branch lines not covered by a special freeze introduced by the transport department earlier this year. This freeze guaranteed a network of branch lines on which abandonment bids have been prohibited before Jan. 1, 1975.

King Fisherman Women Anglers Division Leaders

Women are leading the Kingfisherman pack in two divisions so far this month but the male of the species is clinging to the top in the other four categories.

A 7.14-pound coho caught on a strip teaser off Coffin Point put Mrs. Ellis Young of Lake Cowichan ahead in the coho race.

Mrs. Clifford Lee, 809 Anderson, Port Alberni, heads the Lake trout division with a 5.8-pounder caught at Great Central Lake.

Other June divisional leaders are: Spring (Chinook), George Goy, 4315 Prospect Lake Road, 44.6, off Beechey Head, Super Strip Teaser; River trout, steelhead or rainbow, Steve Troth, Nanaimo, 15.0, at Gold River, roe; River trout other than steelhead or rainbow, Norman Thompson, 3127 Balfour, 6.0, at Cowichan River, dry fly; Bass, Gregory Kennedy, 182 Obad, 4.12, at Elk Lake, River Runt.

Walking Keeps Fred Healthy

TORONTO (CP) — Fred Wright was on the job bright and early Thursday despite it being his 77th birthday.

The job, for Fred, is anywhere in Metropolitan Toronto—and he covers most of his territory on foot.

"His birthday mileage was a hike of slightly more than 10 miles selling cutlery, tableware, plastic and chrome mouldings and roofing materials as a manufacturing agent.

Mr. Wright has been at his present job since he retired from the building business 11 years ago.

"It gets a bit tough nowadays when I have to pick up parcels at the downtown customs office and carry them home. The packages sometimes weigh 50 pounds, but using the subway and bus I manage."

Mr. Wright says his health still is good although his legs bother him sometimes.

The fact that he doesn't drink or smoke has nothing to do with the strapping six-footer's health and longevity, he says. That's due to his walking habits and heredity.

"My father was a builder and he worked until he died at 87."

Mr. Wright was born at Maldstone, England, in 1890, the eldest of six brothers and a sister. His youngest brother, Don, was a correspondent for Reuters news agency in the Caribbean for many years.

Death Came Quietly for Four

REVELSTOKE (CP) — An ambulance driver described the wreckage as "worse than an airplane crash," but for those inside an eastbound bus in the Rogers Pass section of the Trans-Canada Highway death came quietly Friday.

Four people died in the head-on collision Friday between a Greyhound bus, taking about 25 passengers from Vancouver to Calgary, and a runaway, loaded gravel truck.

Lorna Bond, a student nurse at a Vancouver hospital, was on her way home for a holiday at Invermere when the accident occurred.

"I didn't see anything," she said. "My head hit something and all I can remember is the blood running down my face."

"There were only whimpers and a few moans from the front of the bus, where most of the people who were seriously hurt were sitting."

"When we got out of the bus we saw the truck had hit us head-on and then spun and sideswiped us."

Reds Aren't Eager

Big Four Won't Meet

From The Associated Press

"A Big Four conference is not in sight... the Russians are not eager for one now," an informed French government source said in Paris Friday night.

He spoke as Soviet Premier Kosygin flew to New York after a talk of nearly four hours with President de Gaulle in Paris about the Middle East crisis.

The government official said Russia not only isn't interested in an early Big Four meeting on the war aftermath, but also does not expect enough support to win its fight against Israel in the emergency General Assembly session that opens at the UN today.

Russia wants the assembly to pass its motion that failed in the Security Council, condemning Israel as an aggressor and rolling back Israeli troops from Arab territory to prewar positions.

Paris informants said Kosygin told de Gaulle the UN should impose sanctions on Israel if the motion is passed but not obeyed.

De Gaulle, officially neutral and hoping to be a mediator, urged a policy of greater moderation including a meeting of U.S., British, Russian and French leaders—but got a flat no.

CANCELLED PLANS

Before Kosygin's arrival, de Gaulle planned to go to New York if he was convinced there was a chance of serious east-west talks. After Kosygin left, de Gaulle cancelled all plans to make the trip.

On emerging from the talks, Kosygin said: "I am going to New York only to attend the special meeting of the General Assembly, which is the only thing which interests me at the moment. We want to seek a peaceful solution to the problems of the Middle East."

JOHNSON SPEECH

In a Friday night speech at Austin, Texas, President Johnson said the primary requirement for Middle East peace is for each nation there to "accept the right of its neighbors to stable and secure existence."

He made no reference to the UN session or the Kosygin visit, but said the U.S. will do its part to help turn the area "from 20 years of combat, temporary truce and hatred toward the building of durable peace."

BELGIUM VOTE

Secretary-General U Thant summoned the 122 member-nations to meet starting at 8:30 a.m. PDT today after getting the required 62nd affirmative vote from Belgium.

Only the U.S., Israel and Botswana are on the list.

Red Hater Charged With Explosive Plot

NEW YORK (UPI)—Unemployed dishwasher John Carl Ermickson was arrested Friday on charges of plotting to blow up the Russian UN mission where Soviet Premier Kosygin is to stay.

He attracted the attention of a patrolman when he dropped a steel club at a Brooklyn intersection. The patrolman found four Molotov cocktails in a shopping bag carried by Ermickson.

Police said the man called himself anti-Communist, objected to Kosygin's visit and boasted he planned to blow up the mission.

The incident occurred as New York police and UN officials prepared extraordinary security arrangements for Kosygin. Tight security rules at the UN include the suspension of guided tours for the duration of the emergency General Assembly session.

Oil Pinch Stimulates Stable-Area Search

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The oil emergency caused by the Middle East war is causing as rapidly as can be expected, U.S. Interior Secretary Udall said Friday.

He also said the squeeze, which is not affecting North America but has hurt Europe, seems to be stimulating exploration in North America and other more politically stable areas—but won't end until the Suez Canal reopens.

In Paris, French shipping firms said the canal is blocked by five sunken ships and a sunken dredge. More than 15 ships flying the flags of eight countries are stranded midway through the canal but all on board are well supplied.

Pearson Praises Victorian

Victoria's chief Chris Fries, 21, who has been roller-skating across Canada to Expo '67 for 12 weeks, showed his $100 skates to Prime Minister Pearson in Ottawa Friday and received congratulations in return. Price said skates and special plastic rollers have held up well but two pairs of sun glasses have been cracked by flying stones from passing truck wheels.—(CP)

Walker Hits Halifax

HALIFAX (CP) — Harrison Alphonse Mills, a 45-year-old carnival entertainer from Moncton, walked into Halifax Friday after a 3 1/2-month stroll across the country.

He left Victoria Feb. 24 with just $300 and a suitcase and said he walked every step of the way.

The former fire-eater and "human pin cushion" said he "just took a notion" he could make it.

For the most part he slept on roadside picnic tables under the shelter of his topcoat. He expects to reach the end of his journey in St. John's, Nfld., July 15. Then, he said, he plans to sleep for a week.

Americans for Cong

EYE FOR EYE VIET THREAT

SAIGON (AP) — The Viet Cong threatened Friday to execute some U.S. prisoners-of-war as "our due reply" if the South Vietnamese government executes three Viet Cong agents in its custody.

The Communist guerrillas proved two years ago they were capable of such tactics, killing three American captives in reprisal for the execution of Viet Cong terrorists by South Vietnamese firing squads.

THREE BOMBERS

They slew U.S. Army Sgt. Harold George Bennett, 25, June 25, 1965, after death sentences were carried out on three Viet Cong bombers in Saigon.

Capt. Humbert Versace, 28, and S.Sgt. Kenneth M. Rora-back, 33, were shot to death Sept. 24, 1965.

U.S. SHOCKED

The new threat drew from the U.S. state department an expression of shock and concern.

Press officer Robert J. McCloskey told reporters in Washington any such act of reprisal is prohibited by article 13 of the Geneva convention on the treatment of prisoners of war.

The three about whom the Viet Cong now are concerned, Radio Hanoi said, were convicted by a special military tribunal in Saigon, May 29.

Radio Hanoi said two of the three Viet Cong under sentence were Bui Van Chien, alias Nam Hoa, and Le Chau, alias Canh. These names did not match Saigon records.

WOMEN JAILED

Only one of the three sentenced in the Saigon trial that ended May 29 was condemned to death for heading a Viet Cong bomb-sabotage squad. He is Bui Van Chien, 37. The other two—both women—got five-year sentences.

However, two other Viet Cong were convicted June 5 and sentenced to death on charges of treason, illegal possession of weapons and attempted murder.

They were accused of throwing grenades at police, American civilians and others. The Hanoi broadcast did not say how many Americans might be executed. The U.S. state department listed 21 Americans as known to be in Viet Cong hands May 31 and 126 others were missing and believed captured.

Concerned Canadians Tackle List to Left

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Congress of Concerned Canadians, B.C. district, has been formed here to fight what it calls a dangerous list to the left in Canadian life. The anti-welfare-statist group has eight members.

U.S. Damage High

Racial Situation Blows Hot, Cold

CINCINNATI (UPI) — The streets of this racially tense city stayed relatively calm for the second night in a row Friday but a top police official said National Guard troops would continue patrols "until things return to normal."

City safety director Henry Sandman said guardsmen would continue to patrol Cincinnati streets "as long as necessary."

NOT SO CALM
The racial situation was not so calm in two other cities—Dayton, Ohio, and Lansing, Mich.

In Dayton, police said they were trying to set up a line of communication with the city's Negro population following two nights of vandalism.

DAMAGE HIGH
In Tampa, Fla., a federal official estimated $1,500,000 damage to about 40 homes and stores in Negro areas.

In Louisville, Ky., about 40 demonstrators seeking passage of an open housing ordinance marched without incident through the city's predominantly white south end.

In Montgomery, Ala., only about 50 Negroes showed up for a planned march on the state capital Friday night. A report said the city refused to grant a parade permit.

Israelis Mowed Down UN Men Inches Away

By DAVE McINTOSH

NICOSIA, Cyprus (CP)—Only now are some of the bloody details becoming available about the Israeli army attack on members of the 1st Sikh Light Infantry, the Indian contingent in the United Nations Emergency Force in Egypt.

There is mounting fury among members of the United Nations force in Cyprus about what happened to the Sikhs to the point that some officers say Israel should be expelled from the UN. The Indian contingent suffered 14 killed and 24 wounded from Israeli fire before it could be evacuated from Egypt to Cyprus. Some of the wounded are still in the UN field hospital here.

There is also resentment here that UN headquarters in New York has not published the details of the fate which befell the Indians in and near the Gaza Strip. Israel offered Friday to pay compensation to the families of the killed and wounded Indians, but denied the attack was deliberate.

Indian officers say the Sikh battalion suffered more casualties as non-combatants in Egypt than it did in its bloodiest engagement in the 1965 India-Pakistan war. They relate these details: An Indian convoy was en route from Camp Rashah to Gaza flying the UN flag from each jeep and truck. The Sikhs could not be mistaken from anybody else because they were wearing their distinctive turbans.

As usual the convoy met an Israeli tank column on the road. It pulled over to the side of the road and stopped to let the Israelis pass. Three Israeli tanks went by.

The fourth tank stopped, swivelled its turret on the convoy and opened fire from a range of only a few feet.

The Israeli tank rammed its gun through the windshield of an Indian jeep and decapitated the two men inside. When other Indians went to the assistance of their stricken comrades they were mowed down by gun fire. Another Israeli tank thrust its gun into a UN truck, lifted it up and smashed it down on the ground killing or wounding the occupants. Meanwhile, in Gaza, Israeli tanks put six rounds into the UN headquarters which was flying the UN flag. Three more Indian soldiers were killed.

One Indian officer said it was deliberate cold-blooded killing. He said the Israelis knew exactly where each and every UN camp was situated and had deliberately shelled some of them.

Palmist Recalled Service a Scot

WHERE NEXT: The battle to claim Robert Service is on. Jock Hamilton claims Service should be classified as a Scot. He bases his claim on the fact that Service sounded like a true-Glasgow-bred product. Mr. Hamilton says that Service shares the honor of having lost his national identity along with Simon Fraser, Alex Mackenzie and Sir John A. Macdonald.

In 1918 Mr. Hamilton met a lady operating a palmistry booth at an exhibition in Toronto. The palmist claimed to be the lady with the diamond tooth that Service immortalized. The setting included a session in which Scotland's national drink inspired fluid conversation and nostalgia for the Yukon.

Lanansians will have a hard time contesting their claim to the poet of the north.

JACK ASHORE: Victoria has outdone itself, says Cmdr. John Bovey, visit co-ordinator for the Japanese barques Kaiwo Maru and Nippon Maru. He reported Friday that 160 Japanese cadets go ashore each night, and "they're all locked after tonight, Saturday and Sunday."

"Isn't that amazing," he said. "We had a tremendous response from the public and the ships are most grateful."

FRIDGE FARE: Mrs. E. McKenzie of Dawson Creek writes that she uses her fridge as a storage cabinet when she is able to take advantage of make-up sales. She stores her cosmetic loot in the cold to keep it fresh. Cigarettes seem a fairly common item that end up in the crisper compartment along with the lettuce and cabbage.

BUSY DAY: Lieutenant-Governor Pearson has a busy day Monday. He starts his day with a flight to Sandspit where he transfers to a float plane for the trip across Queen Charlotte Island to Tasa. There he will open a new mine, mill and community.

After the job is done he flies back to Victoria where he will attend a reception aboard the Japanese training ship Nippon Maru.

UNKNOWN QUANTITY: Tony Elze decided to take his Old Forge staff on a tour of the area's major tourist attractions so that his people could recommend the attractions with first-hand knowledge.

After the joint he dropped into a rival hostelry to buy Marilyn Howard, Liza Anderson, Edna West and Anne Loughheed a cool drink.

As soon as they sat down the voice of the barman blatted across the room, "O.K. everybody let's see your ID cards first."

EXPO FLIGHT: Conservation officer Charles Estlin is going to see the Montreal Fair by what he considers the cheap route. He will fly his own light plane on the trip east. He figures that the travel cost for himself and his wife will be just $126.

The 10-year veteran pilot will have company for most of the 2,500 air miles as he will be joined by a Nelson pilot who is also flying east.

TOUGH CHEW: A letter was sent addressed to "The most famous tobaccoist in Victoria." Naturally it found its way to Walter Hitchcock at E. A. Morris. The American writer wanted advice on cigars.

Though he is an expert on cigars it's not likely that Mr. Hitchcock will be able to give advice on his latest stock item.

He has just been shipped a quantity of chewing tobacco from Denmark. The plugs are sticky and soft from soaking in sweet juice and look like liquorice candy gone soft.

GONGS AWAIT: There are still 50 pioneer medals waiting at the centennial office. The medals are for pioneers who registered to get the medals but so far they have not been picked up.

Jerry Gooley says he will even give them to a relative who can produce identification or they will be delivered by a member of the society.

The decorations were awarded to people living in Canada before 1882.

Needs Decide Regimen

By JOSEPH MOLNER, MD

Dear Dr. Molner: Why are different pills prescribed for specific parts of the day, as one in the morning, one after meals, before meals, after meals, four times a day, before bedtime, etc. Does the pill color or container (capsule, etc.) have any significance?—J.L.B.

There are lots of reasons. I'll give you some of the more significant ones.

It depends on what a medicine is intended to do; how rapidly or slowly it absorbs; whether it tends to irritate the stomach lining; sometimes whether its nature is changed by stomach juices.

Long-acting drugs are usually taken morning and evening. Some antibiotics, taken orally, maintain their action so that taken every six hours they provide steady effect without a gap.

Some appetite-depressing

drugs are taken in the morning only, since later in the day the effect may linger and cause wakefulness at night.

Drugs to calm the digestive tract are commonly given before meals but drugs to counteract excessive acidity (as for an ulcer patient) are usually taken an hour or so after eating.

Some medications may be irritating to the stomach lining and so are taken after a meal when the stomach, being full, is protected by the presence of food.

Colors, shapes and designs are applied by manufacturers to make medications readily identifiable, and the shape may signify a difference in strength or amount. Dosage in some cases may be imprinted. Some pills are scored so they may be easily cut or broken into a fractional dose.

Capsules at times contain pellets of the medicine with coatings of differing thickness, so some are absorbed quickly, others slowly, thus spreading the effect over a longer time.

Big Four Rejected

wana opposed the emergency session.

Shaping up was a struggle between the United States and the Soviet Union on propaganda aspects of the session, expected to last perhaps an month.

The U.S. moved to assure it will have the first speaker Monday, when the oratory will start. Kosygin was listed as the second speaker.

The name of the U.S. speaker was not announced but all signs pointed to U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg.

Prime Minister Pearson told the Canadian House of Commons Friday he would not hesitate to attend the General Assembly meeting if he feels his presence can be helpful. However, he had made no decision. Canada was among the countries which gave approval to the convening of the assembly session on the Middle East.

WILSON LATER?

Britain announced Foreign Secretary George Brown would head its assembly delegation, but a trip by Prime Minister Wilson to New York later was not ruled out.

Communist leaders who have announced they will come to the session include Polish Premier Jozef Cyrankiewicz, Czechoslovak Premier Jozef Lenart and Hungarian Premier Jeno Fock. Additional Communist leaders were expected to follow suit.

A Johnson-Kosygin talk was regarded by most UN diplomats as virtually certain, even if no Big Four talks develop.

Johnson held a strategy session in Washington with State Secretary Dean Rusk and other top U.S. officials. Rusk will

B,C, Jews Hail Arab Aid

VANCOUVER (CP)—Members of Vancouver's Jewish community have praised Canada's move to welcome Palestine Arab Refugees as immigrants.

"These people are in trouble, said Leo Marcus, executive director of the British Columbia Zionist Organization. "They are human beings and someone has to do something to help them. I would welcome any move Canada makes in this respect."

Some fireworks could flare over the wording of the agenda. Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko asked that the assembly consider "the question of liquidating the consequences of Israel's aggression against the Arab states and the imminent withdrawal of Israel's troops behind the armistice lines."

Goldberg was expected to oppose any wording along that line as one-sided and prejudicial and argued that the item be listed as "the Middle East question," or something similar.

In Tel Aviv, Israel said it will be represented by Foreign Minister Abba Eban. Reports that Defence Minister Moshe Dayan would attend were denied — he is "needed at home."

MARTIN MEETING

Cuba said Fidel Castro won't attend.

Canada's External Affairs Minister Martin met de Gaulle for 35 minutes just before the latter's two-hour conference with Kosygin.

They discussed the Middle East, Vietnam and de Gaulle's visit to Canada next month but no details were given.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lack of confidence that the United Nations can effectively settle the Middle Eastern problems is reflected in strong sentiment in Congress against immediate Israeli withdrawal from occupied Arab territory.

An Associated Press poll, reaching 438 of the 534 members of Congress, put the question: "Should Israel withdraw from captured Arab territories before her security is guaranteed and she is assured of free access to the Gulf of Aqaba and the Suez Canal?"

The response was "no" without important qualification from 364 — representing 42 senators and 322 House of Representatives members.

Flood of Aid

the elderly, the injured and the very young.

● The German-Israeli society of Bonn, formed to help Israel rebuild, gave $250,000.

● Pope Paul made a personal contribution of $50,000.

● The French Red Cross sent 1 1/2 tons of medical supplies, milk and bedding.

● In Tokyo, five Japanese private groups launched a campaign for medical supplies.

● The U.S. offered the use of its planes to drop water to the Egyptian soldiers.

In Ottawa, Prime Minister Pearson said Canada has started shipping $2,800,000 worth of food aid to Arab nations, including $1,000,000 worth of wheat flour, for the Palestine Arab refugees.

He also said Canada has given the International Red Cross $20,000 for medical supplies, adding to the $48,000 worth of baby clothing given by the Canadian Red Cross itself.

All sides in the Commons presumed the food aid was a new program but officials explained the money was already in the budget. They said the new element is a "hurry up" program.

RECRIMINATIONS

Opposition leader Diefenbaker greeted this news with the thundering shout: "We have been deceived."

He said the only new spending was the $20,000 for the Red Cross.

As the mercy campaign moved ahead, recriminations still were heard.

Israel disclosed it exchanged notes with Russia while the war raged last week. Russia charged Israeli aggression while Tel Aviv accused Moscow of "one-sidedness."

Speaking of messages, editor Mohamed Hassanin Haykal of the authoritative Cairo newspaper Al Ahram said U.S. President Johnson sent a message to Egyptian President across the street from the hospital to handle four passengers with only minor injuries.

Police said the truck apparently lost its brakes while travelling down the rain-slicked highway and slewed in front of the bus, striking it just behind the driver's seat where the student driver was sitting.

They said the crash occurred near the Connought tunnel two miles west of the Northlander Motel on the summit of the mountainous highway which leads into Jasper and Banff parks.

The accident occurred shortly after 11 a.m. PDT. Three ambulances and a number of private vehicles were sent to the scene.

It was not known whether Trenholm or the student was at the wheel at the time of the crash.

Three other bus drivers were aboard the vehicle.

Prairie Picnic Feature

COOMBS — The centennial committee has arranged a full schedule of events for the Gala Day today. Events include a parade of floats, and other entries, dedication of the centennial building by W. G. Wheeler, Parksville fire chief, and a pioneer dinner in the Coombs community hall. Following the dinner Rev. William Hills of Qualicum Beach will present centennial medals to Canadian pioneers. A prairie picnic is also scheduled. Sports, a horse show put on by the Triangle Riding Club, and a costume dance at night are all on the list of attractions for the celebrations.

DUNCAN — Social assistance from city hall in May amounted to $7,367. The total includes social benefits paid to 32 families with 82 dependents; 30 single men; 11 single women; one child placed with relatives and five boarding home cases.

VANCOUVER (CP) — James M. Campbell of Saturna Island, vice-president of the B.C. School Trustees' Association, has been elected president of the newly-formed Educational Research Institute of B.C.

CAMPBELL RIVER — The sum of $400 will be set aside by the women's auxiliary to Branch 137, Royal Canadian Legion, for furnishing a room in the Extended Care Unit of Campbell River and District General Hospital, presently under construction. The money will be raised at bingo games.

Funds For Drive

PORT ALBERNI — A $1,500 cheque was presented by Tom Boag of MacMillan Bloedel to the Alberni Valley's Red Cross fund drive this week. Chairman Harry Pearson said, "Without this, we might not have made our objective of $6,000. The fund is $46,711 past its objective, and other small amounts are still to come in. In addition to the company donation, employees of M and B have supported the Red through their Social Services Fund committees, and by contributing their blood to the donor clinics. "One out of every 70 persons living in B.C. will need three bottles of blood during the course of the year, and there is no charge to the patient for this service," said Mr. Pearson.

Children's Camp

$119,000 Project For Handicapped

LAKE COWICHAN — The Kiwanis club camp two miles from here for handicapped children plans to build three dormitories to sleep 40 children and a staff of eight by the end of this year.

The club also hopes to build a main lodge with kitchen and dining facilities for 150 people. Cost of the project is estimated at $119,600. "But we expect to slice this to $40,000 — the remainder coming from volunteer labor, donations of lumber, plumbing, brick work and heating supplies," a spokesman said. Office space, a first aid centre, bath and shower facilities and specially designed washroom facilities are included on the 13-acre waterfront property. To raise the $40,000, every Kiwanis club on Vancouver Island has pledged to raise $100 per member. "But at Lake Cowichan there is a natural slope to the water and the beach is sandy and shallow." There are few camps available with the handicapped specially in mind, and the number of handicapped children on the Island is around 1,200, said the spokesman. "There are many more on the lower Mainland," he said. "The camps unfortunately are usually in hilly terrain, they are a good distance from the water, and the beaches are often rocky."

Merchants Open Hearts, Purses

NANAIMO — Some lucky tourist will be presented with $200 worth of gifts today.

The Jaycees will invite an unsuspecting tourist to Harbor Park at 10:30 a.m. for presentation of gifts donated by Nanaimo merchants.

Then the lucky person will be taken to the Malaspina Wharf, to signal the start of the bathtub race to Gallows Point and back.

Jaycee members were surprised to discover the acceptance of the idea by the merchants and it is being considered as an annual event.

Surprise visit to Europe by the Hon. John Gilbey

Entraining for an unannounced visit to Europe, the Hon. John Gilbey tells of his responsibilities as Gilbey's International Quality Controller.

"My gin has been the best gin in the world for no less than 110 years," says the Hon. John Gilbey. "I am going to Europe to make sure that the European Gilbey's London Dry matches the original English standards. I expect to find the subtle flavour that people call...the perfect balance for mixed drinks." Since Gilbey's International Quality Controller doesn't want elaborate arrangements made for his European visit, he kept his plans to himself.

Next time you see Gilbey's famous frosty bottle, remember the Hon. John Gilbey and his job as Gilbey's International Quality Controller. When you see the gin with the perfect balance for mixed drinks, bear in mind his proud words: "This is my gin. For no less than 110 years it has carried my family's name. Gilbey's London Dry is the gin with the perfect balance for mixed drinks. And I shall make sure it stays that way."

Ceremony Of Flags Thrills Crowd

By ARNOLD OLSON

NANAIMO—The Ceremony of the Flags was the ceremony of the year for about 2,000 people Friday night.

The Navy men presented the ceremony in honor of the Canadian flag, with those of the provinces and territories included.

The reds, blues, yellows and greens caught the eye and only the snappy movements of the 48-man team detracted from them.

After the opening set of drilling, the flags were trooped to a 21-gun salute, which filled Caledonia Park with a blue haze.

O Canada and God Save the Queen were played while the audience, which crowded the bleachers and overflowed onto the grounds, stood and thrilled to the music that only a military band can play.

The gunnery crew were like statues. At the bark of the two guns all eyes turned, but the men were back in position.

White caps all in line, and marching stiffly, they marched past the dais while Mayor Pete Maffeo, dignitaries and officers took the "eyes right".

The two guns were pulled by two crews, but the salutes of their marching was such that at times it seemed there was only one gun.

Ceremonial officer was Lieut. J. E. Harter and bandmaster was Lieut. P. A. Metcalf.

The ceremony will be performed today in Alberni's Athletic Park at 8:30 p.m.

The schedule is: Campbell River, Monday, Tyee Plaza, 7:30 p.m.; Courtenay, Tuesday, Lewis Park, 7:30 p.m.; and Victoria, Friday, Beacon Hill Park's southwest soccer pitch at 8:30 p.m.

School Bus Rides the Waves

For high school students at the relatively new Port McNeill school, this is their school bus, the ferry Solntula Queen. The ferry, which formerly plied the Alberni channel, was bought by the Highways Department for use by the Education Department and the school board. The 12-mile trip between Alert Bay and Port McNeill starts at 8 a.m. and means a pleasant sea voyage for the students before starting school. Just the thing for starting the day with a clear head. The ferry will be withdrawn during the summer, something residents are vigorously protesting.—(Agnes Flett)

North Cowichan

Sewer Vote Today: Vital for Loans

NORTH COWICHAN — Unless a $465,000 sewer bylaw is approved today, future development of the Gibbins Road, Sherman Road, Phillip Street area will be hampered because National Housing Act loans would not be available.

The proposed sewer system would serve 450 homes, 33 commercial establishments, three schools and the new $4,000,000 Cowichan district hospital.

A total of 750 ratepayers are eligible to cast their vote between 8 a.m. and 8 p.m. A municipal official said Friday the proposed system will not duplicate services but will be complementary to already existing systems of the city of Duncan and North Cowichan municipality.

LARGE BACKING
The sewer bylaw has the backing of the Cowichan school board, the Duncan-Cowichan Chamber of Commerce, the local hospital board, and the Cowichan Agricultural Society. He said the sewer system could be installed by early next year. North Cowichan Reeve Donald Morton said earlier passage of the sewer bylaw will also help toward an eventual amalgamation between the city of Duncan and the North Cowichan municipality.

Waverly Hotel Fire

Arson Claim: 'A Match, And $1,000'

COURTENAY—A Cumberland man, Leonard Robert Wilson, was committed for trial on one of two charges which allege that he unsuccessfully incited Leo Robert Hamling to commit arson.

He appeared before Magistrate Eric Winch in Courtenay Thursday and elected trial by judge without jury.

He was defended by A. A. MacKoff, of Vancouver. J. R. Caldwell represented the Crown.

Wilson had originally been charged with two counts, the other involving Gary James Thomson. Thomson in his evidence said he was working at the King George Beer Parlor, which the accused owns and operates, when Wilson asked him if he wanted to make some quick money. The witness stated he answered "yes", and was told, "burn down a hotel". He said he took it as a joke. Under cross-examination, Thomson said he could have been as much as a year out in his testimony about the dates. The charge alleged the dates to be between November 1966 and February 1967. The witness said he thought it might have been in November, 1965.

Wilson told the court he was sitting in the King George bar on a Friday night when Wilson asked him if he would like to make $1,000. He said he asked Wilson "How" and was told, "The same thing I've asked Gary, it only takes one match."

Hamling said he then asked the man, "You mean the Waverly?" He added in his testimony that Wilson had caused a remark about having quite a bank account across the street.

He also said he treated the conversation as a joke. Testimony about a fire at the Waverly Hotel was given

Banquet, Medals For Cowichan Pioneers

LAKE COWICHAN — About 175 pioneers and guests will attend a banquet tonight on the opening day of centennial celebrations for the Lake Cowichan district.

Sponsored by the Cowichan Lake district centennial committee, the banquet will begin at 6 p.m. in the new community centre, the district's centennial project.

Chairman of the banquet sub-committee, William Chappell, said 15 pioneer medallions will be given out to local residents who were born in or came to Canada prior to 1882.

The medallion recipients will be announced by L. J. Wallace, of Victoria, chairman of the provincial centennial committee under the direction of Alan Vance.

Receiving the special mementos will be: John A. Brown, Joseph Buote, George Furster, George Gillespie, Clarence Jubenville, John McPherson, Harold Marwood, John Murray, Angus Nollan, Mrs. Mary Painter and Mrs. Eugenie Scott, all of Lake Cowichan.

Mrs. Elizabeth Gravelle of Port Renfrew, Mrs. Sarah Johnston and Albert Johnston of Mesachie Lake, and Basil Keir of Youbou will also receive medals. Following the presentation the centennial show committee will put on a Salute to the Pioneers show, under the direction of Alan Vance.

Jaycees to Help

NANAIMO — The Jaycees have accepted the job of spearheading the get out and vote campaign for the regional college.

Reno Elvortoy and a six-man committee will organize the membership for the campaign to prepare residents of the school district for the September 30 plebiscite.

Each of the nine school districts north of the Malahat will have an individual plebiscite on that day.

NEED HELP
Larry Thomas, regional college advisory committee member, spoke to the group informing them of the needs and benefits of the college, and asking for their help.

He referred to the "failure structure" of present school systems which take post-secondary education away from those who, with training, could be an invaluable addition to any society.

Grade 11 suffers a 20 per cent dropout rate, while UBC has a failure of 51 per cent of entrants in the first and second years.

ONLY 7 P.C. — Of those who apply to universities, 20 per cent are refused, and only seven per cent actually graduate.

The regional college is designed for the 83 per cent who do not graduate, and for those additional students who never attempted to enter universities, said Mr. Thomas.

Rare Copy of Early Work

Book Traces Riel Battle

By KLAUS MUEYER

DUNCAN — There are two interesting features about the book, "The Riders of the Plains," owned by 80-year-old Duncan man H. A. M. Denny. It is a photographed copy of the original, written by Mr. Denny's second cousin, Capt. Sir Cecil E. Denny, who, as one of the original members of the North West Mounted Police, helped mould Canada's future.

He died in August 1923. Because the book has been out of print for many years, Mr. Denny's sister, Miss N. C. Denny of Duncan, had a photo copy made for her brother from the only known book on Vancouver Island. This copy is in the Provincial Archives.

Mr. Denny said, "I know of only one other copy, which is in Australia. However, there may still be others tucked away in some private library."

"The Rider of the Plains" unveils part of Canada's history. It leads back to the year 1874 when the State Police Commissioner, Capt. Denny, rode West.

He was born in Hampshire, England, and before he emigrated at 19, he had attended colleges at Cheltenham, France and Germany.

In the photo-copied book, the veteran policeman describes conditions lawmen faced when they penetrated into a land where few white people had ventured.

In the winter of 1874-75, he helped build Fort McLeod.

Mr. Denny

nation from the famous force, Captain Denny was requested by Prime Minister Sir John A. MacDonald to take charge of the Western Plains Indians when the rebellion broke out in 1865.

His efforts to keep those Indians from entering the fight earned him deep thanks of the government.

In another book, Sir Cecil Denny writes about the half-breed rebel leader, "Riel was a man of weak personality. English, French, Irish and Scandinavian blood ran in his veins. He was vain, susceptible to flattery, and he welcomed any opportunity for theatrical display."

Referring to a petition of the half-breed population, Capt. Denny notes, "No attention was paid to the petition."

"Indeed, it was ignored and the government attached no importance to the rumors that discontent was widespread throughout the northwest."

"If these claims had been examined, it would have been found that there certainly was some ground for the half-breeds' grievances. More particularly in the matter of security in the holding of their farms—if timely consideration had been given to their claims, and steps been taken to deal with them, it is possible that no outbreak would have occurred."

Following his retirement after the rebellion, Capt. Denny went back to his ranch near Fort MacLeod, worked as police magistrate at Fort Steele, B.C., for two years and held several other government positions before he finally became archivist for the province of Alberta.

Mr. Denny of Duncan came to Canada in 1812, but he never met his famous relative.

He said Sir Cecil Denny, besides having written the two books, "The Riders of the Plains," and "The Law Marches West," wrote many magazine and newspaper articles about western Canada.

Alderman Angry

Beauty Spoilers Bring Down Wrath

A Victoria alderman who says that ugly commercial development has ruined Vancouver Island's scenic arterial road, will take his protest to the Union of B.C. Municipalities.

Chairman of city council parks committee, Ald. Robert Baird, commented recently that lumber and timber yards, car wreckers and other commercial enterprises have completely spoiled what was once one of the greatest scenic roads on the island.

Something should be done, he said, and he proposed to take action.

"Since then I have been in

Ore Treatment Not Allowed

Western Mines Ltd. will not use its milling facilities in Strathcona Park to treat ore from other mines, R. T. Hager, company vice-president, said Friday.

Mr. Hager was referring to a recent statement by Ocean Silver Mines Ltd., which has been granted mining rights on 5,000 acres of Strathcona Park. The company said it hoped to make use of Western Mines milling facilities for treatment of ore on a custom basis.

touch with the Association of Vancouver Island Chambers of Commerce and I believe I will be able to enlist their support," Ald. Baird said Friday.

He now intends to seek permission from the city council of Victoria to take a resolution to the UBCM convention in Prince George in September asking for provincial government controls.

The UBCM will be asked to point out that such commercial eyesores are destroying the beauty of many of the roads in British Columbia and that a system of minimum standards is absolutely necessary before it is too late.

Students Dig Deep for Indian Relics

After three months of digging on Gabriola Island for Indian artifacts, mostly with teaspoons, Simon Fraser University students finally have something to show for their effort. Allan Hoover works 10 feet down, carefully scraping away the earth surrounding the solid foundations of an Indian longhouse used 20 centuries ago. All artifacts and information discovered goes to the provincial museum, but the group only has until August, when the area will be sold to private residents.—(Agnes Flett)

PORT ALBERNI — Building permits amounting to almost $250,000 were issued in Port Alberni during May.

Residential permits for two homes, eight additions to dwellings and six carports and garages totalled $51,950.

Commercial permits included one shop display and a fire-wall restroom unit at $1,500.

Industrial permits totalled $130,000, made up of a chipper building at $20,000 and one Barold Corp. installation, constituting phase 2 of Sedco Shell Oil Exploration, for $110,000.

Students Thanked

DUNCAN — Community leaders and police thanked 35 girls and boys of two elementary schools' safety patrols when they received certificates at a brief ceremony at Duncan Elementary School on Friday.

Assembling for the affair were students from the school, and also from Alexander Elementary School.

Lindsay Loust, from the Duncan Kiwanis Club, sponsoring body, told the young patrol members that since the establishment of the school patrols here 17 years ago, no accident had occurred.

Death Came Quietly for Five

REVELSTOKE (CP) — An ambulance driver described the wreckage as "worse than an airplane crash," but for those inside an eastbound bus in the Rogers Pass section of the Trans-Canada Highway death came quietly Friday.

Five people died in the head-on collision Friday between a Greyhound bus, taking about 25 passengers from Vancouver to Calgary, and a runaway, loaded gravel truck.

E. T. Trenholm of Calgary, a 30-year Greyhound driver, and a student driver were killed in the collision along with a man and woman sitting near the front of the bus.

The dead passengers were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Simister and Mrs. Mary Stuh, all of Burnaby. The student was still unidentified early today.

Lorna Bond, a student nurse at a Vancouver hospital, was on her way home for a holiday at Invermere when the accident occurred.

Attendants and volunteer firemen from Revelstoke. "There was no panic in the bus even after the accident," said Miss Bond from her hospital bed in Revelstoke.

KOSYGIN SAYS NO

From The Associated Press

"A Big Four conference is not in sight... the Russians are not eager for one now," an informed French government source said in Paris Friday night.

He spoke as Soviet Premier Kosygin flew to New York after a talk of nearly four hours with President de Gaulle in Paris about the Middle East crisis. He arrived in New York early today.

The government official said Russia not only isn't interested in an early Big Four meeting on the war aftermath, but also does not expect enough support to win its fight against Israel in the emergency General Assembly session that opens at the UN today.

Russia wants the assembly to pass its motion that failed in the Security Council, condemning Israel as an aggressor and rolling back Israeli troops from Arab territory to prewar positions.

Paris informants said Kosygin told de Gaulle the UN should impose sanctions on Israel if the motion is passed but not obeyed.

De Gaulle, officially neutral and hoping to be a mediator, urged a policy of greater moderation including a meeting of U.S., British, Russian and French leaders—but got a flat no.

CANCELLED PLANS

Before Kosygin's arrival, de Gaulle planned to go to New York if he was convinced there was a chance of serious east-west talks. After Kosygin left, de Gaulle cancelled all plans to make the trip.

On emerging from the talks, Kosygin said: "I am going to New York only to attend the special meeting of the General Assembly, which is the only thing which interests me at the moment. We want to seek a peaceful solution to the problems of the Middle East."

JOHNSON SPEECH

In a Friday night speech at Austin, Texas, President Johnson said the primary requirement for Mideast peace is for each nation there to "accept the right of its neighbors to stable and secure existence."

He made no reference to the UN session or the Kosygin visit, but said the U.S. will do its part to help turn the area "from 20 years of combat, temporary truce and hatred toward the building of durable peace."

World Aid Flood Helps Lost Army

From AP, UPI

The International Red Cross reported solid progress Friday in the battle to save Egypt's starving and thirsty lost army in the Sinai desert.

Officials in Geneva said food and water should reach almost all of the stranded soldiers "within hours." The only difficulty was in locating isolated groups.

Red Cross delegates joined Israeli army operations with trucks, planes and helicopters to find the Egyptian stragglers.

As part of a great humanitarian effort to help Mideast war victims, the Red Cross was co-ordinating a huge campaign involving hundreds of items — a campaign that brought argument only in Canada's House of Commons. Some of the items:

- The UN children's fund gave $1,000,000, chiefly for milk and medical supplies for mothers and children.
• Switzerland gave $62,000 for immediate relief in the Sinai and the Swiss city of Zurich donated $25,000 to rebuild damaged areas of Jerusalem.
• Oxfam, the Oxford Famine Relief Organization sent $20,000 from Canada to the UN for Palestine Arab relief and added $33,000 from Britain.
• Medical aid poured in from Red Cross societies around the world — for example, in Sweden, Finland, Tunisia and The Netherlands.
• Russia said it has allotted $2,400,000 to ease the plight of the army.

Oil Pinch Stimulates Stable-Area Search

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The oil emergency caused by the Mideast war is security risks at the UN include the suspension of guided tours for the duration of the emergency General Assembly session.

He also said the squeeze, which is not affecting North America but has hurt Europe, seems to be stimulating exploration in North America and other more politically stable areas—but won't end until the Suez Canal reopens.

In Paris, French shipping firms said the canal is blocked by five tanker ships and a tanker dredge. More than 15 ships flying the flags of eight countries are stranded midway through the canal but all on board are well supplied.

Americans for Cong Eye for Eye Viet Threat

SAIGON (AP) — The Viet Cong threatened Friday to execute some U.S. prisoners-of-war as "our due reply" if the South Vietnamese government executes three Viet Cong agents in its custody.

The Communist guerrillas proved two years ago they were capable of such tactics, killing three American captives in reprisal for the execution of Viet Cong terrorists by South Vietnamese firing squads.

THREE BOMBERS

They shot U.S. Army Sgt. Harold George Bennett, 25, June 12, 1966, after death sentences were carried out on three Viet Cong bombers in Saigon.

Capt. Humbert Versace, 28, and S.Sgt. Kenneth M. Rorback, 33, were shot to death Sept. 24, 1965.

All three cases were denounced by American authorities as murder.

U.S. BROOKED

The new threat drew from the U.S. state department an expression of shock and concern. Press officer Robert J. McCloskey told reporters in Washington any such act of reprisal is prohibited by article 13 of the Geneva convention on the treatment of prisoners of war.

The three about whom the Viet Cong now are concerned, Radio Hanoi said, were convicted by a special military tribunal in Saigon, May 23.

Radio Hanoi said two of the three Viet Cong under sentence were Bui Van Chien, alias Nam Hoa, and Le Chau, alias Canh. These names did not match Saigon records.

WOMEN JAILED

Only one of the three sentenced in the Saigon trial that ended May 23 was condemned to death for heading a Viet Cong bomb-sabotage squad. He is Bui Van Chieu, 37. The other two—both women—got five-year sentences.

However, two other Viet Cong were convicted June 5 and sentenced to death on charges of treason, illegal possession of weapons and attempted murder. They were accused of throwing grenades at police, American civilians and others.

The Hanoi broadcast did not say how many Americans might be executed. The U.S. state department listed 21 Americans as known to be in Viet Cong hands May 31 and 128 others were missing and believed captured.

U.S. Damage High

Racial Situation Blows Hot, Cold

CINCINNATI (UPI) — The streets of this racially tense city stayed relatively calm for the second night in a row Friday but a top police official said National Guard troops would continue patrols "until things return to normal."

City safety director Henry Sandman said guardsmen would continue to patrol Cincinnati streets "as long as necessary."

NOT SO CALM The racial situation was not so calm in two other cities — Dayton, Ohio, and Lansing, Mich.

In Dayton, police said they were trying to set up a line of communication with the city's Negro population following two nights of vandalism.

In Lansing, 50 riot-armed police had to barricade a west side neighborhood after bands of Negro youths threw rocks and bricks at passing cars.

DAMAGE HIGH In Tampa, Fla., a federal official estimated $1,500,000 damage to about 40 homes and stores in Negro areas.

In Louisville, Ky., about 40 demonstrators seeking passage of an open housing ordinance marched without incident through the city's predominantly white south end.

In Montgomery, Ala., only about 50 Negroes showed up for a planned march on the state capitol Friday night. A report said the city refused to grant a parade permit.

Israelis Mowed Down UN Men Inches Away

By DAVE MCINTOSH

NIKOSIA, Cyprus (CP) — Only now are some of the bloody details becoming available about the Israeli army attack on members of the 1st Sikh Light Infantry, the Indian contingent in the United Nations Emergency Force in Egypt.

There is mounting fury among members of the United Nations force in Cyprus about what happened to the Sikhs to the point that some officers say Israel should be expelled from the UN.

The Indian contingent suffered 14 killed and 24 wounded from Israeli fire before it could be evacuated from Egypt to Cyprus. Some of the wounded are still in the UN field hospital here.

There is also resentment here that UN headquarters in New York has not published the details of the fate which befell the Indians in and near the Gaza Strip.

Israel offered Friday to pay compensation to the families of the killed and wounded Indians, but denied the attack was deliberate.

Indian officers say the Sikh battalion suffered more casualties as non-combatants in Egypt than it did in its bloodiest engagement in the 1965 India-Pakistan war.

They relate these details: An Indian convoy was en route from Camp Rashid to Gaza flying the UN flag from each jeep and truck.

The Sikhs could not be mistaken from anybody else because they were wearing their distinctive turbans.

As usual the convoy met an Israeli tank column on the road. It pulled over to the side of the road and stopped to let the Israelis pass. Three Israeli tanks went by.

The fourth tank stopped, swivelled its turret on the convoy and opened fire from a range of only a few feet.

The Israeli tank rammed its gun through the windshield of an Indian jeep and decapitated the two men inside. When other Indians went to the assistance of their stricken comrades they were mowed down by gun fire.

Another Israeli tank thrust its gun into a UN truck, lifted it up and smashed it down on the ground killing or wounding the occupants.

Meanwhile, in Gaza, Israeli tanks put six rounds into the UN headquarters which was flying the UN flag. Three more Indian soldiers were killed.

One Indian officer said it was deliberate cold-blooded killing. He said the Israelis knew exactly where each and every UN camp was situated and had deliberately shelled some of them.

Inquest Jury's Finding: Swim Areas Require Inhalator 'Hot Lines'

By BOB PETHICK

Recognized swimming areas should be provided with direct communication to inhalator squads, a coroner's jury recommended Friday night.

The jury was inquiring into the death of Minder Singh, 8, 1241 Acton, who died in St. Joseph's Hospital at 6 p.m. Tuesday two hours after being found floating face down in Beaver Lake.

In an unusual step at an inquest, coroner Edmond Jorje de St. Jorre praised Gary Blondin, 24, of 708 Sutfolk, who organized a systematic search of the water and when he found the boy he immediately began mouth to mouth respiration.

"COMMENDABLE" "I commend him for he has done," said Mr. St. Jorre.

"In using his skill and talent, Mr. Blondin acted in a commendable way," he told the jury. "I commend you on behalf of the community," he said to Mr. Blondin, who is a qualified lifeguard instructor.

The jury attached no blame to anyone and brought in a verdict of accidental death.

The jury added to the rider: lifeguards should be in attendance on public beaches according to the weather and not between fixed dates as at present.

Minder, his brother Kuldeep, 14, and three other wards of the Family and Children's Service went to the beach for an outing under the care of social worker William Lawson.

Mr. Lawson told the jury three of the boys could swim but Minder and his brother could not. He warned Minder and Kuldeep and the other boys to stay on the shore side of a marker in the lake. The water here, he said, was up to Minder's waist.

He said the younger Singh seemed to be enjoying himself and stayed where he had been told but Kuldeep consistently disobeyed Mr. Lawson's instructions and was called in for his disobedience.

Mr. Lawson said he had been watching two of his boys playing at one end of the beach and when he looked around again Minder had disappeared. "How long would you say you had your eyes off him?" asked Mr. St. Jorre.

"About two minutes," replied Mr. Lawson.

He added that he couldn't see how the youngster could go under in shallow water while he was being watched.

ENERGETIC

He described Minder as energetic and mischievous. "About average for a boy of that age," asked Mr. St. Jorre.

"More than average," answered Mr. Lawson. "It was because of this I was particularly watching him." He told the court that after a while he had the feeling that Minder had control in the water and showed no signs of being disoriented.

At the scene, Mr. Blondin and Const. Stanley Krastel both said they were unable to obtain any pulse and there was no respiration.

Dr. Charles Ennals, who supervised the resuscitation, said respirators had been used on the boy and he had been given heart stimulation drugs in the effort to revive him.

"After an hour and a half of vigorous effort I pronounced the lad dead," he said.

Report Monday On Gas Case

An engineering report, ordered after 30 children were sickened recently by escaping chlorine gas at the Crystal Garden, will be presented Monday at a meeting of city council's recreation committee.

City Manager Dennis Young said Friday the report has been received at City Hall.

He said he will study it this weekend in preparation for Monday's meeting.

The report was prepared by consultants Frederick Gardiner and Allan Ker. It will probably recommend technical arrangements to prevent a recurrence of the incident.

Arab Refugees Refused

Directors agreed to each send a letter of protest which will be drafted for them.

Are Victoria people the dirtiest in the world?

George Farmer wondered. After every celebration or occasion they leave litter all over the place. They don't look for containers or store their refuse until they find a place to dispose of it; they just drop it on the street.

Mr. Haddock thought it was a city responsibility. If an event took place on the weekend, such as the recent Department of Transport display at Beacon Hill Park, the city should be on the job right after, he said.

A letter to that effect will be sent to City Hall.

The Chamber hopes to have the Right Honorable Governor-General Roland Michener speak at its annual meeting sometime in November.

Esquimalt representative Ian Anderson said that vandalism was a concern of his group. Windows worth $275 were broken every month, shrubs pulled out in industrial parks and other damage done.

Mr. Anderson will consult with a special committee set up to prevent vandalism.

A proposal to give refuge to displaced Arabs as immigrants was opposed by the chamber, and the federal government will be so informed.

The chamber president regretted the fact that the tourist industry in the area was apparently not willing to at least try out a recent proposal to impose a four per cent room tax to raise money for promotion.

"It would be so painless," he said, speaking on the subject.

"Four per cent on an $8 room is 32 cents. All they would have to do is charge $8.50 instead of $8 for a room."

The forecast for the weekend is warm and sunny with a bit of cloud Sunday.

Drug Charge

Youth Sent To Jail

Martin Baker, 17, of 99 Gorge Road, found guilty Thursday on a charge of possession of marijuana was sentenced Friday to serve six months definite and six months indefinite in the young offenders institute.

Defence counsel Dermot Owen-Flood asked that Baker be given a suspended sentence. In passing sentence Mr. Justice George Gregory said he had taken into account the age of the offender, but added "I must also deter others."

STAY ANNOUNCED

An assize jury was out two hours Thursday before finding the youth guilty.

After the verdict was handed down Crown counsel Rodney Taylor announced the Crown would stay proceedings on the trafficking part of the indictment.

Baker was one of five arrested by Saanich police last April 20 near an abandoned house in the Ten Mile Point area.

Government Spending Lashed

Government spending, dirty streets, vandalism and a plan to give haven in Canada to Arab refugees all came under the Greater Victoria Chamber of Commerce lash Friday.

"We must make ourselves

heard on the spending issue," said Courtney Haddock, president to the assembled directors. "If you don't say something it is just 'Ho Hum' and nothing is done. It's the squeaking wheel which gets the grease, you know."

George Wheaton wondered if the many letters sent on issues of this kind were ever read by the people concerned.

Off Clover Point

By A. H. MURPHY

Working at a depth of 120 feet as far as 1,500 feet off Clover Point, divers are making bottom studies as the first step in a $1,000,000 Victoria sewer program which may be started this summer.

William Jorgensen, assistant city engineer, said Friday the original in the area, once drained all Victoria when the northern boundary was Kings Road. It now drains a large area of the city from Finlayson on the north to the city's eastern perimeter.

There are two other outfalls, one at Masanlay Point which drains the northwestern part of the city and part of Saanich and another at Bold Point which serves northeastern Victoria, most of Oak Bay and part of Saanich.

The capital region sewage survey envisages improvement of all three outfalls.

Most dramatic part of the city's program is, by far, the extension of the Clover Point outfall, the largest of three which drain the metropolitan area and the only one which is wholly the city's responsibility. The current study there is being carried out by Triton Engineering Company of Vancouver.

At the moment raw sewage is spilled on the top of the sea at a point 90 feet from the tip of the point and the rolled waters and polluted shores have long been a source of unhappiness to Victorians.

SERIOUS PROBLEMS Extension of the outfall presents serious engineering problems, Mr. Jorgensen said, and it is to solve these that the underwater studies are being made.

They include detailed bottom testing, current studies and studies on the diffusion of sewage.

In order to study diffusion, small pipes have been rigged from the main outfall and in them sewage is pumped out to be discharged at points 800 feet and 1,500 feet from the shore. The diffusion is watched and charted by divers.

Extension of the outfall pipe and tying it to the bottom of the sea may present special prob-
